

GENERAL CLOSING
NOTICE IS ISSUED

Upon Order of Board of Health All Churches, Schools and Places of Amusement Closed.

ON ACCOUNT OF SCARLET FEVER

Members of Board Believe Action
Will Prevent a More Widespread Epidemic.

Because of the widespread epidemic of scarlet fever the city board of health has deemed it advisable to issue a general closing order which will become effective Friday morning and will be in force until March 13. Under the order all churches, Sunday Schools, public schools, places of amusements and other public gatherings, will not be permitted to hold meetings. The board of health has had the matter under advisement for several days but refrained from issuing the official notice until it was regarded as absolutely necessary for the protection of public health.

At the present time there are a number of scarlet fever cases which are scattered throughout all parts of the city and the situation is therefore all the more serious. A very few of the cases are regarded as serious, as the majority of them are very light. A strict quarantine is being maintained as soon as the attending physicians report them, but as several of the cases are light the patients have walked about the city even after contracting the disease. The members of the board fear that a large number of persons have been exposed, and unless all places were closed at once there would be a much more widespread epidemic.

When the schools are closed the parents are requested to see that their children remain at home as much as possible and that they are not permitted to play with persons whereby they might be exposed.

Besides prohibiting the regular services and meetings of the various churches and other organizations, several special meetings and entertainments must be closed on account of the order. The revival which is in progress at the First M. E. church will be discontinued after this evening. For Friday evening the manager of the Majestic Theatre has billed "The Man on the Box," but this has been cancelled, as with "Ita," which company was coming all next week. The manager of the latter company said that he would bring his troupe here later for a week stand.

The health board is especially careful of the cases of scarlet fever here as there seems to be an epidemic over the state. In one small town recently the health officers failed to take the proper precautions and within two weeks' time there were over three hundred cases reported. None of the cases here have been fatal, but several of the persons quarantined are seriously ill.

The school authorities regret that it has been necessary to issue the order as the closing of the schools will interfere somewhat with the work as planned. Considerable time has been lost by the pupils at the Shields building on account of the construction of the new building but most of the work had been made up by this time. In order to complete the course now within the specified time it will be necessary to double some of the work when the classes reconvene.

The epidemic of scarlet fever started here about three months ago, but care has been taken to prevent a spread of the disease and not until the past week were the conditions such that there was any need of alarm. During the past few days a number of new cases have been reported, and these are well scattered in all parts of the city.

The members of the board of health declare that if the provisions of the order are followed there will be much less danger of a more general epidemic. The health board will make an effort to enforce the order as they believe that it will protect the health of the public to do so.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.

Baptist Brotherhood Held Enthusiastic Convention at Columbus.

Persons from Seymour who attended the convention of the Baptist Brotherhood at Columbus Wednesday report a very enthusiastic meeting. The program was carried out as announced. There were a total of over four hundred men present at the convention and over half that number at the banquet in the evening. Three new Brotherhoods were reported to have been organized since the last meeting. The next convention will be held in Vincennes.

The address of the Rev. W. T. Stackhouse, general secretary of the Baptist Layman's Missionary Movement, was well received. His subject was, "Response of Christian Men to the Challenge of the World Movement."

There is no Brotherhood in this association, but a number of men from Jackson county attended the convention.

K. of C. Lecture.

S. A. Baldue, editor of the "Extensive Magazine" will lecture here the evening of March 15, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. He is connected with a leading lecture bureau and his reputation of being a very eloquent and able speaker. His theme will be "The Seven Ages." The lecture will be delivered in the Armory hall.

Last Night of Revival.

On account of the prevalence of scarlet fever the First M. E. church is compelled to close their revival meetings tonight. The interest has kept up and much good is being done at every service. The pastor asks for a good attendance at tonight's service, as he has some things he desires specially to say.

Bi-Weekly Club.

Mrs. Frank Spanagel entertained the members of the Bi-Weekly Club Wednesday afternoon. Elegant refreshments were served and the guests enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

Special.

A lot of ladies tan, gun metal and patent leather booties—mostly lace styles. Were $3.50 and $4.50 at $1.98. Were $3.00 and $3.50 at $1.79. Dehler's sale.

Baseball Case Decided.

The Supreme Court of Indiana today upheld the law enacted two years ago permitting Sunday baseball.

You Can

Save money in furniture at Lumpkin's f16dtf

Try a Want Ad. in the Republican.

MOTHER AND SON ARE UNITED AGAIN

Stanley W. Flannigan, Held Here,
Returned to Washington After Absence of Thirteen Years.

RELATIVES BELIEVED HIM DEAD

All Efforts to Locate Missing Son
Proved Futile—Mother Prostrated With Joy.

The message of Marshal J. T. Abell Wednesday to F. M. Colbert, sheriff of Daviess county, regarding Stanley W. Flannigan, who was held here, resulted in the reunion at Washington today of a mother and son who had not seen each other for nearly thirteen years. The sheriff arrived in the city this morning and returned with Flannigan. The officer did not come in an official capacity, but was interested in the case because of his friendship with the members of the Flannigan family.

The story of Flannigan's life is unusual, and because of the worry of his aged mother on account of his absence is somewhat sad. Thirteen years ago next May Flannigan left his home in Washington with a boy by the name of Faith. He was then but eighteen years of age, and had but little experience with the world. The boys left for the south, and for a year Flannigan corresponded regularly with his parents. In September, 1899 his mother received a letter from him while he was in Ohio, and he stated that he would go to Lima, where he would receive his next letter. Letters were addressed to him there but they were all returned to the senders, and for twelve years no word had been received from him. Upon the death of his father two years ago, an effort was made to locate the son, but with no results. His mother believed that he had been killed or had died and had given up all hope of ever seeing him again. When she was informed that he was in Seymour she was almost prostrated with joy.

Before leaving the city this morning Flannigan was asked if he knew his father was dead, and he replied that he had supposed that both of his parents had been dead for several years. He showed no outward signs of being especially pleased with his trip to Washington, and said that he would just as soon go to jail as to return home.

Sheriff Colbert stated this morning that Flannigan was a member of a well thought of family, and that he has one brother, Grover Flannigan, in Arkansas who is a prosperous lumber buyer. He stated that his father was regarded as one of the best timber men in southern Indiana and purchased for many of the large mills. Flannigan also has two sisters, living, one of them in Washington and the other in Aurora.

Faith, the boy with whom Flannigan departed, returned to Washington several years ago, but had lost trace of his friend long before he returned. Flannigan seemed to be rational upon every subject except that of the secret service men. Sheriff Colbert said that he did not believe that he was criminally insane, and that with a good rest and sympathy he would soon recover. The officer said that he might know what caused Flannigan's trouble, but did not state what it was. Flannigan is now thirty-one years of age.

Cut Rate Prices

In Furniture and wall paper.
f16dtf LUMPKIN'S.

Bigler Poultry Compound and Condition Powder. See N. Hauerpeger Agency, Seymour Ind. f23w-Thur

Berdon's Barber Shop, S. Chestnut

DREAMLAND

"THE REDEEMED CRIMINAL"
(Essany Drama)

"THE BLACK BORDERED LETTER"
(Edison Drama)

Illustrated Song
"Oh! You Rah! Rah! Boy"
By Miss Lois Reynolds.

NO CHANGE FOR JACKSON.

Will Probably Remain in Fourth Congressional District.

The Democratic majority of the house and senate joint legislative committee having charge of congressional reapportionment Wednesday evening reached an agreement. By the plan adopted it is hoped by the majority that several districts will be made Democratic certainties. Jackson is to remain in the Fourth district. Johnson is to be transferred to the Sixth to help make that district Democratic. Decatur which is Republican is to be dumped into the Fourth. Lawrence county will be changed from the Second to the Third.

MUSICAL TONIGHT.

Talented Musicians Will Give Excellent Program at St. Paul Church.

The musical given by some of the most talented musicians in the city will be held this evening at the St. Paul church. It is not often that the people of Seymour have an opportunity to hear such a program as that arranged for this entertainment. Several vocal numbers will be given by Miss Alma Massman, of Cincinnati, who has quite a reputation for her clear, sweet tones.

The program is as follows:

PART I.

Piano Duet—"2nd. Rhapsody" Liszt
Mmes. Masters and Matlock.
Chorus—"How Lovely Are" Mendelssohn

String Quartette—"In Thoughts" H. Frolich
Messrs. Barkman, Masters, Hancock, Voss.

Vocal Solo—"Cantina—More Lovely in His Humble Estate" Gounod
Miss Alma Massman.

Violin Solo—"Legende" Carl Bohm
Miss Frieda Aufderheide.

PART II.

Vocal Trio—"Dreaming" H. R. Shelly
Misses Gasaway, Huckleberry, Flenniken.

Cello Solo—"Song of the Evening Star" Wagner
Estel Hancock.

Vocal Selections:
a—"Du bist wie eine Blume" Rubenstein

b—"Haide Roeselein" Schubert

c—"Little Irish Girl" Loehr

d—"To Spring" Gounod

e—"Sweet Heart" Chadwick

Miss Alma Massman.

Violin Solo—"Bourree" Adolf Weitig

Miss Frieda Aufderheide.

Chorus—"The Rose and the Moth" Jamison

Chorus.

Now or Never is the time to attend Dehler's great sale as Saturday is positively the last day.

Mrs. N. T. Moore, who was taken to the city hospital at Columbus Wednesday, was in such a weakened condition when she reached that place that it was necessary to have an ambulance called to take her to the hospital. She is resting very well today, however.

Frank Haley, who claims he lives in Massachusetts, was arrested last night for public intoxication. After he sobered up he was very nervous, and it was necessary to call a physician.

Take advantage of Dehler's sale, as you can buy at least a one-third more for your money.

After The Fire
What?

There are two answers to that Gruesome Query.

One spells total loss. Original investment gone, building and contents in ashes. A new start and many regrets.

"THE OTHER," a fire insurance policy, under which the loss is promptly adjusted, and settlement made in cash without discount when money is most needed.

Be on the safe side by securing a policy with

FRED EVERBACK
AGENCY COMPANY
Office over Milhous Drug Store

MAKE DIVISION OF DEFICIENCY FUND

Aid For the Schools of Grassy Fork and Owen Townships and Crothersville.

TIME OF SCHOOLS IS LESSENED

$2985.68 Received by Jackson.—Provisions of a New Bill Which is Pending.

The deficiency school fund of the state is being divided this week by the state superintendent among the 33 counties in which aid was asked.

The amount coming to Jackson county is $2,985.68 and will be used in Grassy Fork and Owen townships and at Crothersville.

The law provides that state aid shall be given to school districts when local taxation of 25 cents on the $100 will not pay the expense of a six months school.

Crothersville which has a seven months school asked for $966.66; Grassy Fork and Owen townships have six months schools and the former asked for $2535.59 and for Owen for $474.94. The amount asked however will have to be cut. The amount of the state school deficiency fund this year amounted to $132,245.57 and which was nearly $37,000 less than the amount asked by the 162 townships needing aid. As a consequence the terms of schools receiving aid will have to be reduced seven or eight days.

The fund is divided among the schools according to the ratio of children to be benefitted.

Last year the Grassy Fork and Owen township schools were running on a seven months basis and the time had to be reduced on account of a shortage in the deficiency fund.

This year the term is six months. Supt. Payne states that there is a conflict in the law. It provides that a six months term must be held in the corporations and townships, but as is the case this year the deficiency makes a reduction of the time unavoidable.

In 1909 the schools continued their full time and a $60,000 deficit resulted and there is now a bill before the legislature for an appropriation to cover this amount.

A bill has also been drawn which provides that when the funds of the state and district are exhausted, the school shall close, thereby overcoming the possibility of a future deficit. At the suggestion of Superintendent Greathouse, a provision was inserted to increase the tax levy 15 cents on each $100 of taxable property in districts in which schools are open six months, and 10 cents in the districts in which there are seven-months schools, before they shall receive aid from the deficiency fund.

In the distribution of funds this year all of Jackson's neighboring counties received aid. Bartholomew received $458, Brown $7,965.99, Jennings $5,614.40, Lawrence $1,892.65, Scott $1,312.13 and Washington $4,862.75.

Watch Heideman's window for bargains. f7tf

Kindling and coal at H. F. White's

NICKEL
TONIGHT
DOUBLE SHOW

"The Rescue of Molly Finney"
(Kalem Drama)

"Eldora, The Fruit Girl"
(Edison Drama)

SONG "I'd Like to Make a Date With You" by Miss Riehl

Majestic Theatre

JACK HOWARD, Manager.

"FOR REMEMBRANCE"
(Reliance)

"THE CRIMINAL CHIEF'S CAPTURE"
(Great Northern)

Illustrated Song:
"GARDEN OF ROSES"

By Mr. Howard.

S. A. BARNES GIVES VIEWS.

Declares Indiana Has Enough Laws Already.

S. A. Barnes, of this city, who attended the reunion of the democratic legislators of 1893 declared that Indiana already had enough laws. He said:

"We already have a sufficient volume of laws on the statute books," and I want to tell you that if our legislators are given $10 a day and unlimited sessions they will each year pile up a book of statutes bigger than the Holy Bible."

Mr. Barnes had just given figures showing that in the last twenty years Indiana has paid more than $1,000,000 for the compilation of laws passed by the general assemblies during that time and that the lawyers of Indiana had paid something more than $200,000 to purchase the revised complications needed during that time.

Mr. Barnes was the representative from Clark, Scott and Jennings counties in 1893. Mayor Allen Swope who represented Jackson county that year was also present at the meeting.

Afternoon Reception.

A very delightful reception was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. James H. Carter at her home on west Second street. The color scheme of the decorations were red, white and blue, and the house was beautifully adorned with flags and flowers in keeping with Washington's birthday. Hanging from the chandeliers were large clusters of American flags and throughout the house, carnations and other flowers were in evidence.

In the reception line were Mrs. L. L. Whitesides, of Franklin, Mrs. Lambert, Mrs. Calvin Nugent, Miss Newsom, of Columbus, and Mrs. Carter. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Lynn Faulkner, Mrs. Theo. Groub and Mrs. O. E. Carter. Mrs. H. S. Dell and Mrs. Scott Applewhite assisted in the dining room and poured tea and coffee. Miss Marguerite Miller and Luella Toms also assisted in the dining room. The guests were received at the door by Miss Esther Arnold. During the afternoon the orchestra played patriotic selections.

The Board of Health Notice.

Office of City Board of Health.
General Closing Order No. 1.
To Schools, Churches, Theatres and All Public Gatherings:

On account of an epidemic of scarlet fever and in aid of the numerous quarantines now established you are hereby ordered not to hold any schools, services, sessions or public gatherings of any kind whatsoever in the City of Seymour, Indiana, until further notice from the City Board of Health. Parents are further ordered to keep all children under sixteen years of age off of the streets and out of public places unless accompanied by parent.

This order to take effect February 24th, 1911.

W. M. CASEY, M. D. Pres.
G. O. BARNES, M. D.
J. H. CARTER, M. D. Sec.

Attested by J. H. Carter, M. D., Secretary.

Seymour, Indiana, Feb. 23rd, 1911. f25d

Save

50 cents to $1.00 on a room of wall paper at Lumpkin's. f16dtf

Single Comb White and Brown Leghorn eggs for hatching from Heavy laying, prize winning strain. Eggs guaranteed. $1 per 15. Frank Husted, 11 Husted street. f16tf

ROUND TRIP EXCURSIONS

Every Saturday and Sunday

Seymour to Louisville $1.25

and Jeffersonville $1.20

VIA

I. & L. Traction Co.

Tickets sold good going on any train on Saturdays and Sundays, and good returning on any train until Monday.

RUSTIC

BIG WESTERN

"A JEALOUS WIFE"

"BOYS OF TOSPY TURVY RANCH" (Western)

SONG

"I am Looking for a Nice Young Fellow"

This is the time of the year to begin with your

KODAK

A complete line of Kodaks and Kodak supplies are to be found at our store.

Our prescription department cannot be excelled.

Andrews-Schwank Drug Co.

The Rexall Store
Registered Pharmacists
Phone 633

Gold Coin. Why?

Because it is made from choice Spring wheat and you will be surprised at the difference in bread before and after using. Order today. 80 CENTS A SACK.

Hoadley's Grocery

BATTLE FLAGS WAVE IN HOUSE

A Patriotic Pause in Legislative Doings.

AN INTERESTING CEREMONY

Recently Restored Flags of Indiana Regiments in the Civil War Draped the Walls of the House While the Legislators Halted Session's Work to Honor the Memories of Washington and Lincoln.

Indianapolis, Feb. 23.—The chamber of the Indiana house of representatives was filled to overflowing yesterday afternoon with people to attend the ceremonies in celebration of the birthdays of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln, and old Indiana battleflags draped the walls of the hall. The galleries were densely packed, as was the lower floor of the house, men and women alike crowding in.

A military color was given by the presence of Colonel Henry A. Greene and about twenty other officers of the Tenth United States infantry from Ft. Benjamin Harrison, all in their dress uniforms. Colonel Greene occupied a seat on the speaker's stand with Speaker Veneman. The Tenth regiment band furnished the music from a place in the gallery.

Historic Incident Recalled.

The stories of many of the historic flags were told by Major D. I. McCormick of the Indiana national guard, who recalled in his address the occasion when the regimental colors were delivered by the Indiana regiments to Governor O. P. Morton, to be preserved by the state of Indiana for the eyes of succeeding generations.

Major McCormick reminded his hearers of the showing made by Indiana in the civil war, and proved by the history of battles that Indiana men took a larger part in the war than did any other state by reason of the fact that the chances of war sent the Indiana regiments to all parts of the fighting territory. Indiana regiments were in every important battle of the civil war, according to the record. The flags that were borne through the most severe fighting of history were pointed out by regimental numbers.

The restored flags attracted much attention, especially among the older people who attended the observances. There were many soldiers present, and these, in groups, picked out their particular regimental colors, and renewed memories of the trying times when the flag led the way to glory.

Mrs. Bacon's Good Work.

The tenement house bill, which the house committee on state medicine, health and vital statistics rejected a few days ago because of its length and the lack of time this session to consider it, was brought out on the house floor and passed under suspension of the rules. The passage of the bill by the house in the face of what seemed, when it was turned over to the committee, an insurmountable lot of difficulties, is taken as a monument to the indefatigable work of Mrs. Almon Fellows Bacon of Evansville, author of the bill. The measure amends the present "housing law," which applies only to Indianapolis and Evansville, so that it will apply to all cities of the state. It also corrects certain defects which two years' operation of the present law has shown to exist.

Good Roads Movement Pushed.

The Indiana Good Roads association through Clarence A. Kenyon, its president, has issued an open letter to the members of the legislature urging them to pass the good roads bill now pending in both houses.

The house passed one of the good roads measures, providing for the payment in cash of all road taxes above $20; and the appointment of road supervisors by the township trustee.

The Democratic legislative apportionment bill which will be presented to the party caucus to be made a caucus measure has been presented in the house. Some changes may be made, but it is believed that if any apportionment bill is passed it will be about in the form in which this one was introduced.

Representative Hedgood's bill to require medical examination and certificate of freedom from venereal disease on the part of male applicants for license to marry within the state, has been passed in the house. The bill authorizing a referendum on municipal franchises has been advanced to engrossment in the house, together with a large number of other house and senate bills. The bill for the medical examination of school children has been passed. The house adopted a resolution calling on the next congress to elect U. S. Jackson sergeant-at-arms.

The senate bunched thirty unimportant house bills and passed them on one roll call.

A Straw in Michigan.

Lansing, Mich., Feb. 23.—The Michigan legislature was polled for its choice for a presidential candidate. Out of the 105 Republicans, the poll shows that 90 are for Taft, six for Governor Osborn, four for LaFollette, four for Roosevelt and one for Beveridge. Eight of the nine Democrats in the legislature voted for Harmon, the other one for Champ Clark.

THE HORSE THIEVES

By THEODORE L. BREWER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"There ain't the same chance for a lively life out yere," said the old plainsman, "there use to was. These yere railroads ruin a country."

I was to spend the night in Josh Miller's cabin. We were smoking our pipes after supper, and his wife was washing the dishes. I encouraged him to talk about the country as it was formerly.

"Them was times when the men was wild as the beasts. Every man was armed with a rifle hooked to his saddle, two revolvers in his belt and likely a couple more in his saddlebags. Anyway that's the way I used to go about. And I tell you we had some pretty likely women about yere in them days. They could all shoot, and shoot straight enough too. And, better than that, they wasn't all day doin' it. One on 'em I courted, too, for I wasn't married then, but so far as I could see she hadn't no use for me.

"The boss thieves was about as bad stuff to deal with as anything we had out yere in them days. There was one gang of 'em that I and some of the rest of us got after and broke up. We killed some, hung some, and some of 'em got away. I hear that them as got away said they'd get even with me. They'd git me alive and when they got me they'd make me suffer a death for every man of their gang I'd killed.

"And they got me sure enough. One afternoon I'd strayed away from the settlement, crossed the river—one of the forks of the Missouri—by a ford and looked about for some game for supper. I had only my rifle with me, but I considered that enough to deal with any Indians roamin' about. I didn't come on to no game, and, feelin' kind of lazy, I laid down on the ground. "The breeze rustled the leaves of a tree under which I was layin', and the birds was a-singin', and everything was peaceful. That was what made the difference when the shootin' and the scalpin' begun in them times. We jumped from one to 'other in a jiffy. One minute it was listenin' to the gurglin' o' water and the slighin' of the breeze; the next we heard a bullet singin' or a warwhoop.

"Well, I fell asleep. I was woke up by a shake, and there, looking down into my face, was Bill Aiken, one o' the boss thieves that had said he'd do me. He'd got my rifle, and I saw it was all up with me. Bill's boss was nippin' the grass. So was mine. These other fellers come ridin' up. They was the jolliest lot at gittin' me you ever see, and they begun at once to lay plans for torturin' me to death.

"They concluded to take me to their camp. They tied a lariat around my neck, and one of 'em held an end before me, and another held one end behind me, so that I shore couldn't git away. Then they put me on my boss. To git to their camp they was obliged to go over the ford I'd come by. Two of 'em rode ahead and two behind me. When we reached the ford the first man went in up to his boss's belly. I was wonderin' if I couldn't find some way to drown. But I didn't have much time to think about it, for I'd scarce got into the water when the man who'd gone in first pitched forward into the drink. At the same time I heard a crack and saw a bit o' smoke floatin' away from the high bank on 'other side of the river. But I could see nothin' but the smoke.

"The second man, seein' the one ahead killed and not seein' what killed him, didn't know what to do. All of us was in the river, and crossin' a stream is the worst possible place for to be attacked. The third boss thief called on the second to go on, but before he could do it there was another crack, and he dropped too. I was wonderin' if I was to be killed—ruther hopin' I was—when the man behind me give a yell, and he went the same way as the others.

"One idee by this time must 'a' got into the fourth man's head. I reckon he thought some one was doin' all this for me and, not likin' to give me a chance to escape, concluded to shoot me. I turned jist in time to see him puttin' his hand back to git his revolver when a red spot came in his forehead and he didn't git no pistol. "Yere was four men either dead or so near dead they couldn't do nothin'. Two of 'em was goin' downstream under the water. Of course I didn't waste no time. I spurred my boss and started across the ford. When I'd climbed the bank I looked for them as had done the shootin'. I didn't see no one. It was as peaceful there as an April mornin'. I listened, but I couldn't hear nothin' except a breeze shakin' the leaves of the trees. The grass was long, and I hunted about in it.

"Purty soon I came to a gal lyin' as if dead. She was the one I was tellin' you about a spell ago. A rifle and a 42 caliber revolver laid by her. I got off my boss and knelt down to do somepin to help her when she opened her eyes. Seein' me, she put her arms around my neck.

"She was the party as had killed four boss thieves and had saved me. Bein' out thar, she had seen 'em and, knowin' I was nigh, had gone back to git the weapons. After killin' all four of 'em, like a gal, she fainted."

"That's the kind of girl I'm looking for," I remarked enthusiastically.

"You can't have that one," said the plainsman. "She's in thar washin' dishes. Besides, she's an old woman now."

SLIDE WRECKS PANAMA CANAL

Plans of the Engineers Will Have to Be Altered.

THEIR THEORIES DISCOUNTED

Heretofore They Have Been Able to Account For the Many Disastrous Avalanches Which Have Retarded Work on the Big Ditch, But This Latest and Most Damaging Slide Is Wholly Inexplicable.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The war department has received no official information of the slide in Culebra cut.

Colon, Feb. 23.—Just opposite the town of Culebra, 500,000 cubic yards of rock and earth has slid into the Pioneer cut entirely without warning, upsetting all theories and all estimates, opening up an ugly vista of possibilities. It is one of the worst slides the canal commission engineers have had to contend with, and it is worse than any previous slide from the fact that the others could be explained, even were predicted.

The latest avalanche of dirt changes canal plans materially. It makes it seem necessary that the entire prism shall be enlarged sufficiently to prevent any recurrence of the sort after the completion of the canal. There seems to be no doubt that all Gold Hill will have to be removed, in itself a considerable undertaking, and 335,000 yards of the slide itself represents waste. The remainder it was intended to remove.

Engineers' Theories Punctured.

Most disconcerting of all, theories which heretofore have served to explain slides to the satisfaction of the engineers' brains are pricked like a toy balloon. It always has been held that slides were caused when heavy rainfall made the earth soggy and the sloping beds of rock beneath slippery. When the weight overcame adhesion and when the concussion of the dynamite blasts gave final impetus, it was believed the slides took place. But the Gold Hill slide is without precedent. There have been no heavy rains in this section for six weeks, and there has been no blasting in the vicinity for more than a year.

In some quarters the fear is expressed that the canal never will be safe until Gold Hill is entirely removed. At least, the slope must be reduced to a minimum. No estimate of the damage has been given by the canal commission, but it will mount up to a handsome figure.

A BLOW AT RUSSIA

Representative Parsons Accuses Czar of a Breach of Faith.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The persecution of the Jews by Russia was made the subject of a speech in the house by Representative Parsons. He insisted that the United States should no longer tolerate the discrimination imposed by Russia on Americans of the Jewish faith.

"The Jew," he said, "has reached a high plane of citizenship in the United States. He is in the senate and he is in the house, and he is one of our best citizens. We should protect him to the utmost wherever our influence extends." Mr. Parsons spoke in favor of the abrogation of the St. Petersburg treaty of 1832, on the grounds that Russia, in violation of the treaty, continued to discriminate against Americans of the Jewish faith.

Costly Blaze at Evansville.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 23.—Fire that broke out in the four-story office building of the Evansville Gas and Electric Light company caused a loss of $160,000, the largest part of the loss falling on the J. R. Golden Cigar company, which occupied the third and fourth floors. The cigar company estimates its loss at $110,000.

Not Much of a Kisser.

Boston, Feb. 23.—Arthur H. Trower of South Boston has been married ten years, and has never been kissed. His wife, Emily, who is authority for the statement that she has never once kissed her husband, has got a divorce on the ground of cruel and abusive treatment.

Murder Trial in Progress.

Washington, Ind., Feb. 23.—The trial of Alex Harper, a farmer of Steele township, who is accused of having stabbed Sanford Davis to death, has begun here. The killing was the outgrowth of a fight in the "tenderloin" section.

Another Political Scandal.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 23.—Several informations equivalent to indictments have been filed in the Kent county superior court at Dover against five prominent Republican leaders and workers. They charge bribery at the November election.

A Fruitless Chase.

El Paso, Feb. 23.—Pinched with the cold, worn out from tramping in the mud, and almost starved from lack of provisions, General Navarro's command of 800 federalists returned here last night from their fruitless chase after insurgents.

For the Children

A Marine Fish With a Very Peculiar Head.

Among the most remarkable marine creatures are the trachypteridae or deal fishes, which are similar to the oar fish, also a very singular creature, but of smaller size and commoner occurrence, says St. Nicholas.

The deal fish is from three to four feet in length and has a thin body, which would be transparent were it not covered with a white pigment that makes it look like burnished silver; on the white surface are one or two blotches.

The head is somewhat like that of the oar fish, to which it is closely related. Both have small teeth and cannot bite, even if they wished to do so, but they do not, for they are quite inoffensive creatures. On the head of the deal fish is a large, streamer-like fin, and at the end of the tail, instead of the ordinary caudal fin, is a long, slim fin that projects up at right angles to the backbone. No other fish has this peculiarity. The specimen which is shown in the photograph above was caught in Monterey bay in 1907 and sent to Leland Stanford, Jr., university.

An Exciting Game.

Two captains are chosen by lot, and they choose the players, one after the other, until the party is equally divided. Then the players seat themselves in two rows, facing each other, and the captain who has won the first play throws a knotted handkerchief at one of the players on the opposite side, selecting any one he pleases, and as he throws the handkerchief he calls out one of the words: "Earth!" "Water!" "Air!" "Fire!" If earth be called the player into whose lap the handkerchief has fallen must name some quadruped before the thrower of the handkerchief counts ten; if water be called he must name some kind of fish; if air, he must name some kind of bird, and if fire be called he must remain silent. If the player should name the wrong thing or speak when he ought to remain silent he must drop out of the game, and the player who threw the handkerchief must then throw it at some one else on the opposite side. If this second player at whom the handkerchief is thrown should answer promptly, he throws it at a player on the opposite side, calls out one of the four words mentioned and counts ten, and the game goes on thus until all the players on one side have dropped out, when, of course, the other side wins.

What a Little Seed Did.

In the city of Hanover, in Germany, is an old, neglected graveyard. Near the entrance is a tomb in which lie the remains of a lady who belonged to the old nobility and who was buried there about the middle of the last century. The tomb is covered with massive blocks of stone. On one of these stones, besides the name of the lady and the date of her death, there are these words: "This grave, bought for all my time, must never be opened." But there are mightier forces than heavy stones and iron clamps. A little seed found lodging in the crevice between two of the stones. It took root and grew until now there is an immense birch tree waving its graceful limbs over the tomb. Its roots went through the grave, and the trunk lifted the great stones and broke the iron clamps, and the little seed had opened the grave, for its power was greater than the stone and the iron.

Roman Treasure.

Hidden treasure ought to be all the better for having been hidden many years. Mr. Banet is the landlord of the inn at Bonpas, a little town away down in the corner of France, where nothing except the Pyrenees mountains separates that country from Spain and the queer little republic of Andorra. Mr. Banet is a lucky man, for one day he dug up an old earthenware jar, and in the jar he found hundreds of ancient coins. The coins have been examined by men who know about such things, and they have been found to be of Roman manufacture and eighteen or nineteen centuries old. There are some silver pieces, and the rest are bronze.

Chains of Thought.

Each player has a slip of paper and pencil, and then a single word is pronounced before the company assembled. The word is written at the head of a piece of paper, and each player records in a list every thought that this word brings into his mind, making a chain of thoughts. When these are read out the devious paths taken by the thoughts cause endless fun.

The House Builder.

I'm sure it's not an easy thing to make a blockhouse stand— I have to keep so very still and steady with my hand— And when it gets up good and high some grownup or the cat Is sure to come and joggle it and lay my castle flat.

—Youth's Companion.

QUAIL CIGARS

A standard of Excellence for over Forty Years

THE MICROBE OF GOUT.

French Scientist Thinks He Has Discovered Cause of Disease.

Chickens with the gout form a novel exhibit of the Pasteur institute in Paris when visitors are taken through the place these days. But the chickens so afflicted are believed to mark a distinct forward step in the study of the germ theory, because Professor Metchnikoff, the distinguished scientist, believes he has succeeded in isolating a microbe responsible for this most painful ailment, and it is due to experiments made by him that the chickens suffer.

The chickens were fed a diet of horseflesh, and this food caused the increased growth of certain microbes in the intestines and produced swelling of the joints just as occurs in gout in the human being. Professor Metchnikoff is also convinced that the absorption of poisons by these same microbes of the intestines is the cause of degeneration of the organs of the body usually ascribed to old age. One of the chief degenerative changes found in old age is in the condition of the arteries. The walls become hardened and brittle. Professor Metchnikoff was convinced that the degeneration, the cause of which was never before determined, was the result of the activity of the intestinal microbes.

Experiments on young animals with cultures from a diseased intestine brought about a hardening of the arterial walls that was exactly similar to that which results in the human from what has previously been called "old age."

WIRED CONCRETE BLOCKS.

Unique Method of River Embankment Construction.

A unique method of concrete embankment construction, in which the concrete blocks are strung on wires, has been successfully used on the river Yonne, in France. The idea was originated by an Italian engineer.

The bank of the river is first smoothed to a convenient slope; then the wires are strung the proper distance apart, fastened to a cable at the bottom and to specially constructed frames at the top. Each frame, ten feet long and accommodating twenty-five wires, is in reality a bench on which the concrete blocks are placed and from which they are slipped on to the wires. The sections of these benches are alternately painted red and white to eliminate error in stringing the blocks, which are made in two shapes and interlock. One shape is fed on to the wires fastened to the red sections of the frame and the other to the sections painted white.

When the blocks are in place and embankment is completed the frames are removed and the wires twisted together and wound around piles, which serve as anchors. The bottom is held down by its own weight.

The concrete protecting curtain thus made for the slope of the river Yonne extended about five feet below the water line.—Popular Mechanics.

Dandruff and Itching Scalp Yield to This Treatment.

Why experiment trying to drive the dandruff germ from underneath the skin with greasy ointments or fancy hair-dressing when A. J. Pellens' Drug Store will guarantee ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP to entirely rid the scalp of the germ life that causes the trouble.

ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP can be obtained in any city or town in America and are recognized the best and most economical treatment for all affections of the skin or scalp whether on infant or grown person. One shampoo with ZEMO SOAP and application of ZEMO will stop itching and cleanse the scalp of dandruff and seurf.

We invite you to try ZEMO and ZEMO SOAP and if not entirely satisfied we will refund your money.

Where Women Don't Like to Shop.

The stranger in Korea finds that he has struck topsyturveydom when he learns that women do not like shopping, that the prominent merchants keep their wares concealed in closets instead of displaying them in show-cases and that the customer who does not fancy the first piece of goods brought from concealment is likely to be told that the merchant is quite sure he has nothing better. Elsewhere the street sign plays an important part in attracting trade. The large merchant houses in Korea are entirely without street signs.—Baltimore Star.

IF I HAD ECZEMA

I'd wash it away with that mild, soothing liquid, D. D. D. Trial bottle, 25c. Relieves all kinds of skin trouble, cleansing away the impurities and clearing up the complexion as nothing else can.

Yes, If I had any kind of skin trouble I'D USE D. D. D.

The Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

We do "Printing That Pleases"

PUBLIC SALE.

Having rented my farm and intending to move to the city, I will sell at public auction to the highest bidder at my farm 1 1/2 miles east of Seymour near the B. & O. S-W. Railway, on TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 28,

Beginning at ten o'clock a. m. The following property, to-wit: 1 coming five year old bay mare, good worker, weighs 1200 lbs will make an excellent brood mare, 1 coming six year old bay horse, will weigh 1300 lbs, a good worker in all harness, 1 coming eleven year old bay mare, a good worker, and one of the best brood mares in the county; 1 coming twelve year old bay horse, a fine looker, and good worker; 5 head of first class milch cows, all giving milk and two of which will be fresh in April; 1 heifer, will be fresh in May; 1 heifer, ten months old; 1 bull, fifteen months old; 1 bull calf, ten months old; 3 brood sows, will farrow in April; 10 head of shoats, will weigh forty lbs each; 9 head of shoats, will weigh 30 lbs each; 1 McCormick binder, 1 McCormick mower; 1 hay rake; 1 double corn drill; 1 single corn drill; 1 James Oliver riding breaking plow, new; 2 walking breaking plows; 1 stalk cutter, new; 2 cultivators one new; 1 sixty tooth steel frame harrow; 1 double shovel plow; 1 lay frame; 1 gravel bed; set log bolsters; 2 farm wagons; 2 sets work harness; 1 set buggy harness, about 5 tons timothy hay in mow; 30 bushels good seed oats; about 200 bushels of corn in the crib; some household and kitchen furniture, and many articles too numerous to mention.

All sums of $5.00 and under cash in hand. On all sums over $5.00 a credit of 12 months will be given, purchaser giving his note with approved freehold security. Notes to bear six percent interest from date if not paid at maturity. Five percent discount for cash. No property to be removed until terms of sale are completely complied with. This is the best all around property that has ever been offered at public auction so don't miss the chance of obtaining some good stock. Plenty of good lunch will be furnished.

FRANK PRICE.

J. Peter Ahl, Auctioneer.

SKIN AND SCALP TROUBLES YIELD TO ZEMO.

A Clean Liquid Preparation for External Use.

A. J. Pellens Drug Store is so confident that ZEMO will rid the skin or scalp of infant or grown person of pimples, blackheads, dandruff, eczema, prickly heat, rashes, hives, ivy poison or any other form of skin or scalp eruption, that they will give your money back if you are not entirely satisfied with the results obtained from the use of ZEMO.

The first application will give prompt relief and show an improvement and in every instance where used persistently, will destroy the germ life, leaving the skin in a clean, healthy condition.

Let us show you proof of some remarkable cures made by ZEMO and give you at 32 page booklet how to preserve the skin. A. J. Pellens Drug Store.

Fifty Years Ago Today.

Feb. 23.

Lincoln arrived in Washington at 6 a. m. News of his night trip was wired over the country, causing intense excitement. False reports of assassination and kidnapping were circulated. The special presidential train proceeded from Harrisburg via York and Baltimore to Washington as scheduled and was met in the cities along the route by expectant crowds. The fact that Lincoln did not respond to calls deepened the mystery in view of conflicting reports as to his whereabouts.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

Prince Jerome Napoleon (Plon Plon) issued in Paris a spirited protest against the threatened expulsion of the Bonaparte princes from France.

60 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. HANDBOOK on Patents sent free. Oldest agency securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

UNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

SEEDS

CORN AND OATS

JOHNSON COUNTY YELLOW OR WHITE DENT SEED CORN

This corn needs no introduction, as it is known throughout the United States, winning the Grand Prizes at Chicago and Omaha Corn Expositions and taking first prizes wherever shown. This corn is a heavy yielder. Price per bushel, shelled only (sacks free) $2.00

WESTERN IOWA WHITE SEED OATS

These are Choice Extra Heavy, Bright and well matured Seed Oats, weighing 35 to 40 lbs. to measure bushel. We have handled these Iowa White Oats for past 5 years. They are heavy producers on Indiana soil. Always get your Seed Oats from the North.

Price per bushel, shelled only (sacks free) 54c. If you order either or both Corn and Oats in 10 bushel lots or more we pay the freight to your station. We handle all kinds of Field Seeds and Feeds.

J. G. HERMANN & CO. 326 S. Capitol Ave. Indianapolis, Ind.

SHIRLEY PRESIDENT SUSPENDERS

The kind that most men wear. Notice the cord back and the front ends. They slide in frictionless tubes and move as you move. You will quickly see why Shirley President Suspenders are comfortable and economical for the working man or business man.

Light, Medium or Extra Heavy Weights—Extra Lengths for Tall Men. Price 50 Cents from your local dealer or by mail from the factory.

Signed Guarantee on every pair

THE C. A. EDGARTON MFG. CO.
333 MAIN STREET, SHIRLEY, MASS.

MR. LORIMER IN SELF DEFENSE

Senate Impressed By Remarkable Personal Appeal.

MANY WERE MOVED TO TEARS

Senator From Illinois, Answering the Charge That His High Seat Is Tainted, Reviewed His Rise From Abject Poverty to Present Exalted Station, Pointing Out the Firm Friendships Which Resulted in His Election.

Washington, Feb. 23.—In his defense William Lorimer of Illinois arose in the senate and delivered a notable speech. The accused senator reviewed his entire life from his humble beginning as a bootblack and newsboy on the streets of Chicago, to his election finally to a seat in the United States senate.

In telling his story Lorimer disclosed the secret of his career and the methods by which he has built up his powerful political organization in the city of Chicago. It was the story of the rise of a political boss, told with details that impressed every senator. According to Lorimer, kindness to others was the foundation on which his political power was built. The most of this story Senator Lorimer told by way of explaining why fifty-three Democratic votes were cast for him for United States senator by the Illinois legislature. He declared that thirty-four of these votes came to him purely on the ground of friendship, and that these thirty-four influenced the remaining nineteen Democrats to support him. With uplifted hand he denied upon his word of honor as a man and a senator that he had ever resorted to bribery in any election, or had ever had any knowledge of the use of money in corrupt practices.

Told About His Election.

The Illinois senator did not attempt to answer the evidence presented in the case. He said merely that he did not know of any bribery, and then devoted himself to telling all that he did know about his election, and why the Democrats had voted for him. Senator Lorimer was particularly severe on Senator Root and repeatedly in his address turned to him and pointed personal questions. One such incident came with the story of "Manny" Abraham, a Democrat in the Illinois legislature who voted for Lorimer and who had been characterized by Senator Root as the bell-wether of the Democratic flock in the Illinois legislature. The senator from Illinois recounted the story of his friendship for "Manny" Abraham. In human interest it paralleled some of the best that came from the east side of New York. The senator was at one time a horse car conductor in the west Chicago district. Jews were unpopular in that locality. Many of them were pack peddlers. Many streetcar conductors would refuse to carry them with their packs. And he had seen conductors on horsecars kick them from the car platform into the street.

Won Enduring Gratitude.

Senator Lorimer told, however, how he invariably allowed them to ride on his car, until he came to be known among them as the conductor who would carry them, and they would sit by the track and wait for his car to come along. A little later Mr. Lorimer came to live in this very district where the Jewish peddlers were. He immediately had their firm friendship, and when he learned that they were driven from the polls on election day, with bricks if necessary, he fought for them and obtained for them the privilege of voting in the west side.

"When I visit this district now," said Senator Lorimer, "I am not introduced by these people as Mr. Lorimer or as Congressman Lorimer, or as Senator Lorimer. I am taken from one to the other and presented as 'The Father'."

Turning to Senator Root again, Senator Lorimer asked: "Does the senator from New York know what that means, when people come to believe in you and trust you and almost revere you, and come to the point of introducing you as 'The Father'?"

Not a Question of Sympathy.

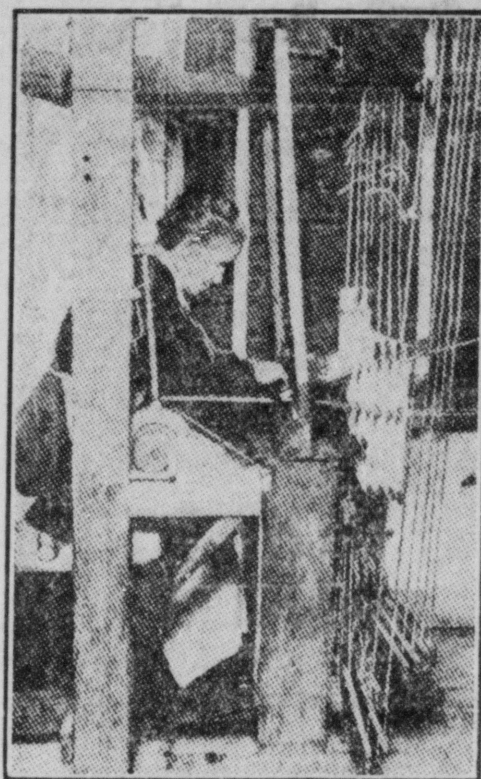

"I am not the only poor boy who has come to the senate," declared Mr. Lorimer, with deep feeling, "and I am not pleading poverty or the hard knocks I received as a reason for sitting here. Neither am I pleading for sympathy. I am telling the truth and why men voted for me. It is not a question of sympathy, but a question of right or wrong."

"If senators believe me to be the low and vile creature the senators from New York and South Dakota say I am, then you have a plain duty staring you square in the face." The senate was startled at this statement, but not so much so as by the one which followed as Senator Lorimer again advanced toward Senators Root and Crawford and fairly shouted: "If I could be the foul wretch you senators sought to paint me, regardless of how I came here, you should drive me from yonder door with the brand of infamy on my back."

Senator Lorimer's speech made a deep impression on the senate and the opinion seemed to prevail at the conclusion that he had done much toward saving his seat in that body. It was

CORONATION ROBES.

Miss Foakes Making Velvet For Queen's Gown.

WEAVING CORONATION VELVET.

Miss Foakes of Sudbury, England, is busy these days weaving at her loom velvet to be used by the queen of England. This handsome material will later on be made into a magnificent robe for the queen to wear at the coronation ceremony in June.

Miss Foakes has the honor of once having been visited by the gracious Queen Mary.

An Injurious Habit.

"Now I know why your eyes are so often inflamed," said the trained nurse to a friend whom she saw at her typewriter. "Four times while I have been talking you have rubbed your eyes with those germ laden fingers."

The girl, who wrote in white gloves to save her nerves, was quite unconscious of the habit, yet the danger to her eyes was none the less great.

It is the unconscious rubbing that makes work for the oculists. Most of us are careful enough when we know we have been exposed to contagion. It is daily, when all seems well, but danger lurks, that we grow careless.

An old doctor, now dead, used to tell the nurses under him: "Don't let your patients rub their eyes if you can fight them out of it. When you can't struggle longer, teach them to use the back of the wrist rather than the finger tips."

This is such good advice it should be passed along. The back of the wrist is equally effective in removing irritation in the eye, but has far fewer germs than have the ends of the fingers that are constantly touching diseased surfaces.

For the Bridge Party.

You won't go far wrong in the spring if you purchase a frock of marquisette. In both the cotton and silk varieties this fabric is in immense vogue.

The attractive model pictured is of black marquisette mounted over cerise satins. The deep skirt band is of black satin, and the bodice displays a charming soutache effect. This all over braiding for waists is very new and effective.

SMART FROCK OF MARQUISSETTE.

Hers by Inheritance.

Alice Stone Blackwell was elected president of the Woman's Journal at a recent meeting of the stockholders. Miss Blackwell has been interested in the suffrage movement all her life, having inherited the interest from her mother, Lucy Stone Blackwell, and her father, Henry Blackwell, both of whom worked all their lives for the cause.

USES OF GRAPHITE.

Mineral Extensively Employed in Various Industries.

Up to a few years ago every American pencil manufacturer had to import his graphite from Bohemia or Bavaria. About ten years ago a large deposit of amorphous graphite was discovered in Sonora, Mexico. This proved of excellent quality for pencil making and many other purposes, and the American pencil trade now derives its supply mainly from this source. Some is also exported to European pencil manufacturers.

Graphite is also used extensively in paints for ironwork—to prevent rust—for coating foundry facings, in making electrodes, stove polishing pastes, in electrotyping, as a lubricant and as a filler for dry batteries. An impure and cheap graphite mined in Georgia is used as an adulterant in fertilizers, to which it imparts a dark and greasy feel, but a still more unusual application has been its use to color and glaze both tea leaves and coffee beans, the pure graphite being a harmless material which protects these articles against moisture and adds to their attractive appearance.

The fact that graphite is nearly pure carbon, is relatively inert chemically and volatilizes only at high temperatures makes it of exceptional value in the manufacture of crucibles for the steel, brass and bronze industries, etc. Most of the graphite used in the United States for these purposes is imported from Ceylon, the fibrous structure of the Ceylon product, not developed to a like degree in graphite from any other locality known, being of especial value in this utilization, since with clay it forms a stiffer mix than other varieties of graphite. Muffles, stirring rods and other refractory products are made from material similar to that used in crucibles. The experiments which have thus far been made in the use of American crystalline graphite for refractory products have not yielded results equal to those obtained with the Ceylon graphite. The poorer the binding quality of graphite used in crucibles the greater the quantity of other binding material which must be added to hold the mass together, thus increasing the more readily fusible constituents of the crucible at the expense of the more refractory and materially decreasing its life. The so called amorphous types of graphite have not yet been successfully used in the manufacture of refractory products.—Consular Report.

NOVEL MOTOR SLEIGH.

Air Propelled Machine Capable of Great Speed.

The motor sleigh shown in the accompanying illustration is constructed on altogether original lines. In appearance it resembles somewhat the hull of a fast hydroplane boat. It consists of a semitorpedo shaped body mounted upon two pairs of runners and carrying in front a multiple bladed air propeller or fan inclosed in a conical housing.

The inclosing of an air propeller in this way is a fallacy, as instead of increasing the efficiency of the propeller it diminishes this perceptibly. In like manner the use of a large number of blades in a propeller is not nearly so good as the use of but two. Therefore, while the housed propeller used on this Russian motor sleigh looks well to the uninitiated, it cannot give the results that an open two bladed propeller rigged above the machine would give.

SIDE VIEW OF MOTOR SLEIGH.

For this reason a powerful four cylinder, water cooled motor of forty horsepower or more is used, whereas an air cooled motor of half this power ought to suffice. The machine is claimed to have a speed of forty-five miles an hour. The small runners at the rear are connected together and arranged so they can be turned about a pivot at the center of the connecting rod by means of the steering wheel. The other rods that run up upon either side and are held by the second man enable him to assist in steering. The cross rod with a flat spade-like end (seen in front of the rear runners) is used as a brake. When not in operation it can be turned up out of the way.

American and British Tools.

In reference to the relative cost of American and British heavy machine tools the technical director of one of the leading Belgian works states that a careful calculation based on the prices paid to a well known American and a prominent English house shows the charge per kilogram for boring mills to be practically the same. He adds that on the face of it the American machine would appear to be more expensive, but the difference in price, he found, was made up by the greater weight in the American tool.

Counting With Air Blast.

A novel device for counting passengers that pass through the gates at a railroad station is about to be installed in Pittsburgh. The principal feature consists of a blast of compressed air, which the body of the person going through the gates obstructs and thereby causes it to register.

BOYD B. STUTLER

Enjoys Distinction of Being Youngest Mayor in World.

Grantsville, W. Va., Feb. 23.—Boyd B. Stutler, editor of the News of this city, bears the unique distinction of being the youngest mayor in the world. Editor Stutler, although but twenty-one years old, manages the affairs of both his newspaper and the city with excellent results.

TOBACCO GROWERS ANXIOUS TO KNOW

To Cut Out or Not to Cut Out Is the Question.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 23.—To force action by the Burley Tobacco Society either for or against a "cut-out" of the 1911 crop of white burley tobacco, as ordered by the convention of the Burley Tobacco Union here, petitions have been started by members of former pools conducted by the Burley Tobacco Society, demanding that the elder body make known its stand on the 1911 proposition immediately. Thus far officials of the society have declined to declare either for or against the elimination of this year's crop. The pledges which the union has been circulating among the growers provide that the "cut-out" shall not be binding unless the plan is indorsed by the society, and its campaign consequently has been harassed by the attitude of the elder organization.

BLOODY MASSACRE

Russian Troops Descend on Persian Village and Wipe It Out.

Teheran, Feb. 23.—Russian troops after a skirmish with brigands, attacked the village of Veramun, near Astara, although the brigands were not there, and burned houses and killed inhabitants of both sexes. The victims are officially stated to number fifty. The Russian minister has expressed regret for the occurrence to the Persian government.

Taught Them a Lesson.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Attorney Hyman Epstein and L. C. Gold were sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment at Ft. Leavenworth by Judge Landis on the charge of concealing assets in bankruptcy and perjury. Government attorneys charged that shortly before Sophia Gold filed a petition in bankruptcy winding up a fur business in Chicago her brother, L. C. Gold, and Epstein tried to hide $4,000 worth of furs.

Bootleggers Given Warning.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 23.—Out of 200 defendants before the criminal court charged with violation of the prohibition laws by having federal licenses in their possession, fifty-two confessed judgment and were fined $50 and costs and workhouse sentences of thirty days each. The sentences were suspended with a warning.

Double Cause For Worry.

Indianapolis, Feb. 23.—Ferdinand L. Adams, superintendent of a local detective agency, shot and killed himself in a room at the Denison hotel. The reason for Adams' act is given by members of his family as dementia, resulting from nervous worry over domestic and business difficulties.

WEATHER EVERYWHERE

Observations of United States weather bureaus taken at 8 p. m. yesterday follow:

	Temp.	Weather.
New York.....	30	Clear
Denver.....	—2	Clear
San Francisco 44		Clear
Boston.....	30	Pt. Cloudy
St. Paul.....	12	Clear
Chicago.....	32	Clear
Indianapolis... 20		Clear
St. Louis.....	28	Clear
New Orleans... 46		Clear
Washington... 30		Clear
Philadelphia... 36		Clear

Fair; same Friday, not so cold.

B. & O. S-W.

THE MOST DIRECT LINE TO WASHINGTON, D. C., BALTIMORE, MD., PHILADELPHIA, PA., AND NEW YORK. THREE EXCELLENT TRAINS EVERY DAY, ELECTRIC LIGHTED SLEEPING CARS, ELECTRIC LIGHTED DINING CARS. A LA CARTE SERVICE. LIBERAL STOP OVER PRIVILEGES ENROUTE.

ALSO

THE MOST DIRECT ROUTE TO THE WEST, MAKING DIRECT CONNECTION WITH ALL TRAINS OUT OF UNION STATION AT ST. LOUIS.

FOR RATES, TIME OF TRAINS, SLEEPING CAR RESERVATIONS, CALL AT B. & O. TICKET OFFICE OR ADDRESS

E. MASSMAN, Agent.
W. P. TOWNSEND,
D. P. A., Vincennes, Ind.

Indianapolis, Columbus & Southern Traction Company.

In Effect Nov. 14, 1910.

Northbound Cars Lv. Seymour	TO	Southbound Cars Ar. Seymour	FROM
6:55 a. m.	I	6:30 a. m.	C
8:10 a. m.	I	7:53 a. m.	G
8:00 a. m.	I	8:53 a. m.	I
9:17 a. m.	I	9:10 a. m.	I
10:00 a. m.	I	9:53 a. m.	I
11:17 a. m.	I	11:10 a. m.	I
12:00 m.	I	11:53 a. m.	I
1:17 p. m.	I	12:25 p. m.	I
2:00 p. m.	I	2:10 p. m.	I
3:17 p. m.	I	3:53 p. m.	I
4:00 p. m.	I	4:10 p. m.	I
5:00 p. m.	I	4:53 p. m.	I
6:17 p. m.	I	6:10 p. m.	I
7:00 p. m.	I	6:53 p. m.	I
8:17 p. m.	I	7:53 p. m.	I
9:00 p. m.	I	8:10 p. m.	I
10:45 p. m.	G	9:53 p. m.	I
11:55 p. m.	C	11:38 p. m.	I

I—Indianapolis.
C—Columbus.
G—Greenwood.
H—Hoosier Flyers.
S—Seymour-Indianapolis Limited.
Z—Makes no country stops between Indianapolis and Edinburg, but makes all stops south of Edinburg; connects with the B. & O. west, leaving Seymour at 2:03 p. m.
Cars make connections at Seymour with train of the B. & O. R. R. and Southern Indiana R. R. for all points east and west of Seymour.
For rates and full information, see agents and official time table folders in all cars.
General Offices—Columbus, Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS AND LOUISVILLE TRACTION COMPANY.

In effect May 10, 1910.

Dixie Flyers leave Seymour for Crothersville, Scottsburg, Sellersburg, Watons Junction, Jeffersonville and Louisville at 9:11, 11:11 a. m. and 2:11, 4:11, 6:11, 8:11 p. m.

Local cars leave Seymour for Louisville and all intermediate points at 6:00, 7:00, 10:00 a. m., 12:00 m., 1:00, 3:00, 5:00, 7:00, 9:00, 11:00 p. m.

Freight service daily except Sunday between Seymour, Jeffersonville, Louisville, New Albany and all intermediate points.

Express service given on local passenger cars.

* Runs as far as Scottsburg only.
For rates and further information see agents, or official time folders in all cars.

GENERAL OFFICES,
Scottsburg, Indiana.

Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern Railway.

Southeastern Line.

NORTH BOUND.

Daily.

No. 2	No. 4	No. 6
Lv. Seymour 6:40 am	11:40 am	5:05 pm
Lv. Bedford 7:35 am	1:00 pm	6:25 pm
Lv. Odon 9:07 am	2:08 pm	7:34 pm
Lv. Elmore 9:17 am	2:18 pm	7:44 pm
Lv. Beehunter 9:33 am	2:35 pm	7:53 pm
Lv. Linton 9:48 am	2:43 pm	8:14 pm
Lv. Jasonville 10:12 am	3:12 pm	8:38 pm
Lv. Tr. Haute 10:55 am	4:05 pm	9:30 pm

No. 28 mixed leaves Westport at 5:00 a. m., arrives at Seymour 6:40 p. m. daily except Sunday.
SOUTH BOUND.
Daily.
No. 1
No. 3
No. 5

Lv. Tr. Haute 6:00 am 11:10 am 5:35 pm
Lv. Jasonville 6:54 am 12:04 pm 6:29 pm
Lv. Linton 7:18 am 12:28 pm 6:53 pm
Lv. Beehunter 7:30 am 12:40 pm 7:05 pm
Lv. Elmore 7:45 am 12:55 pm 7:20 pm
Lv. Odon 7:55 am 1:05 pm 7:34 pm
Lv. Bedford 9:12 am 2:22 pm 8:48 pm
Lv. Seymour 10:25 am 3:35 pm 10:00 pm

No. 26 mixed leaves Seymour for Westport at 2:50 p. m., arrives at Westport 4:15 a. m., daily except Sunday.

For time tables and further information, apply to local agent, or
H. P. RADLEY, G. P. & T. A.
First Building, Terre Haute.

WE DO PRINTING THAT PLEASES.

WE DO PRINTING THAT PLEASES.

Richart's Remodeling Sale

We are compelled to have more room before we take over the room which has been occupied by the Richart Shoe Store. In order to clean up our entire stock, we offer values less than manufacturer's prices on SUITS, OVERCOATS, ODD PANTS, WOOL SHIRTS AND HATS.

We will not give prices in this paper, but will give you prices on the goods at our store.

RICHART

W. H. BURKLEY
REAL ESTATE INSURANCE AND LOANS
SEYMOUR, INDIANA

JACOB SPEAR JOHN HAGEL
Carpenters-Contractors
BUILDING AND REPAIRING
New work—hard wood floors a specialty
SPEAR & HAGEL
630 N. Chestnut St., Seymour, Ind.

SUDIE MILLS MATLOCK
Piano Teacher,
Res. Studio: 521 N. Chestnut St.
SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

H. LETT, M. D. C.
Veterinary Surgeon
111 W. Third St., SEYMOUR.
Phones—New 643 and 644, Old 97 and 80.

SEYMOUR TAILORS
Ladies' Suits, Cloaks and Skirts
Alteration Free. Pressing and Dry Cleaning a Specialty. F. SCIARRA, Prop.
3rd and Chestnut Sts., Seymour

THE REPUBLICAN

JAY C. SMITH HARRY J. MARTIN
Editors and Publishers.

Entered at the Seymour, Indiana, Postoffice as Second-Class Matter.

DAILY
One Year $5.00
Six Months 2.50
Three Months 1.25
One Month .45
One Week .10

WEEKLY
One Year in Advance $1.00

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1911.

Birthday Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tucker entertained a number of the friends of their daughter, Miss Mildred, very pleasantly Wednesday at their home on Indianapolis avenue in honor of her thirteenth birthday anniversary. The guests enjoyed a very pleasant evening with games and music. Miss Tucker received a number of elegant presents among which was a fine Shubert piano, a gift from her parents.

Those present were: Harry Steele McBride, Herod Stants, Louis Cooley, James Hancock, Imel Bush, Ernest Allen, William Milhous, Warren Laikin, Roy Kendall, Earl Burkdoll, Earl Prall, Francis Cadem, Charles Sherber, Marie Stanfield, Irene Hunsucker, Pearl Teekemeyer, Irene Norbeck, Florence Sherbert, Florence Darling, Ruth Burkdoll, Alice Abell, Edith Kendall, Bessie Abell, Ruby Reed and Norin Weaver.

Old Mr. Moulton frankly confesses that he is not a member of any church. "But I go regularly," he invariably adds, "and, what's more, I get to the meeting house on time. It's part of my religion not to disturb the religion of other folks."—Youth's Companion.

STATE HEALTH REPORT

Show More Sickness in January than in Previous Month.

The bulletin of the state board of health for January just issued says: There was more sickness and more deaths in January, 1911 than in the same month of 1910. In January just passed, the deaths numbered 3,259, rate 14.2; same month last year 2,883 rate 12.3. Scarlet fever was epidemic in 22 places. In same month last year it was epidemic in 7 places. Tonsillitis, influenza and bronchitis were the most prevalent diseases. Pneumonia stood seventh in area of prevalence and fourth in the same month last year. Consumption did its usual horrible work, killing 389 people. Typhoid fever killed 39, diphtheria 38, scarlet fever 26, measles 17, whooping-cough 12, pneumonia 457; diarrhoeal diseases under two years of age 44, cerebro spinal meningitis 9, influenza 130, puerperal fever 30, cancer 158, violence 189, Poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) caused 7 deaths; Carol 1, Hendricks 1, Marion 1, Posey 1, Steuben 1, Washington 1, Whitley 1. The number of cases were about 100. This comparatively new disease threatens the state when warm weather comes.

A GENEROUS OFFER

To Whom It May Concern.

There are hundreds of people in this vicinity at this season of the year who need a blood-making, body-building and strength-creating tonic. It is to all such, which comprise old people, delicate children, the weak, run-down and convalescents, and all those who suffer from chronic coughs and colds, that we ask to come to our store and get a bottle of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil).

If it fails to build you up, create strength and restore normal health, we will cheerfully return the money paid us for it. We take all the chances—you take none. As a matter of fact, we don't take much chance either, because Vinol rarely disappoints us. Come in and get a bottle on these terms. The Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

JACKSON AND LAWRENCE.

The Two Counties May Be United In Judicial Circuit.

A bill has been started through the house providing for important changes in judicial circuits. It provides that Lawrence and Jackson shall constitute a circuit and it is said there is a very strong probability that the bill will be passed. Some of the attorneys are much disappointed that Bartholomew and Jackson are not to be made a circuit. The expense of venued cases would not be so great owing to the better and cheaper railroad connections with Columbus.

Baptist Ladies Sewing Society.

There will be no meetings of the Sewing Society until further notice on account of the Board of Health's orders.

Mrs. Wm. Stratton, Pres.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY
take LAXATIVE BROMO Quinine Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box. 25c.

Get The Price

In a Library Table at Lumpkin's. f16dtf

CALL UP 250

When in need of good groceries.

Our goods are the best and prices are reasonable

Careful Attention given all orders.

COURTEOUS TREATMENT TO ALL.

REINHART'S GROCERY

Corner Third and Chestnut Streets

DANIEL WEBSTER ERBAUGH

Here on the Hunt for Pernicious Bugs and Scapes.

Daniel Webster Erbaugh, a state entomologist was here Wednesday evening and went out to make an examination of the surroundings of the site of the Cunningham nursery which is to be established southwest of the city. His examination was made at the request of the proprietors of the nursery to determine whether bugs and scapes affect that section which will affect the trees to be set out. Mr. Erbaugh speaks very highly of the Cunningham people. They are at Rising Sun at present and he says they know the business thoroughly and will establish a nursery here that will be of great benefit to the community.

While here Mr. Erbaugh examined trees on Ben Simon's lot on west Fourth street for San Jose scale. He found some of the trees covered with these ruinous pests but he also found on some of them a peculiar fungus which the department has not found at any other point in Indiana. This fungus works in opposition to the San Jose scale and if numerous enough will kill the scale and counteract its bad influences. The trouble generally is that where found it is not plentiful enough to wipe out this scale.

WILL ENFORCE ORDINANCE.

Police Will Prosecute Persons Who Fail to Pay Tax on Dogs.

On next Tuesday the time will expire for paying the dog tax and after that date all owners of dogs who have not secured a license will be subject to prosecution. Under the new ordinance which was adopted by the council several weeks ago the license fee is one dollar for all dogs. The tax is given when the license is procured.

Marshal J. T. Abell is planning to take up all dogs found running upon the streets without a proper tag after next Tuesday. He will secure a wagon and a net, and will make regular trips around the city, taking in charge every dog he finds without a tag. This year he will have the assistance of Street Commissioner Isaac Burrell who was recently clothed with police authority.

Last year a total of 248 licenses were paid for, and up to this time there have been only 48 this spring. The police believes that there are at least as many dogs as there were last year and it is estimated that tags were procured for only one-half of the actual number of dogs in 1910.

JACKSON'S FATE.

Democratic Legislative Apportionment Bill Introduced.

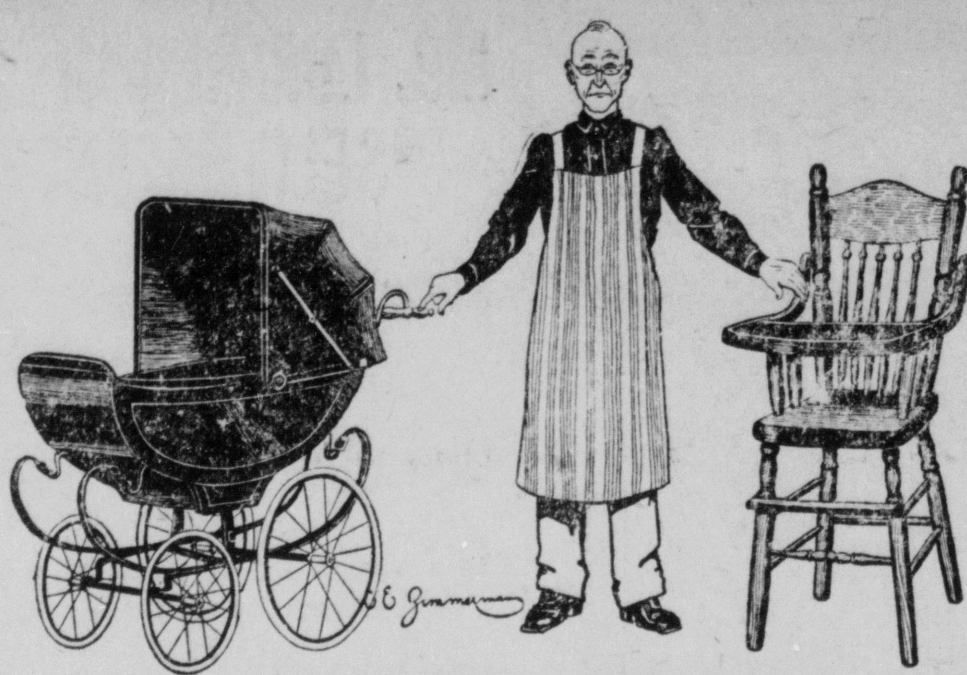

The Democratic legislative apportionment bill has been introduced in the house and it is expected that it will be made a caucus measure. It any apportionment bill is passed it is thought this will be the bill with very few changes.

By it Jackson county is given one representative and placed with Lawrence and Washington counties in a senatorial district. Bartholomew and Lawrence are each to have a representative as at present and Scott and Jennings are left together. Jennings is placed with Switzerland and Ripley counties in a senatorial district. Scott is hitherto in Jefferson and Clark and Bartholomew is in company with Brown and Monroe.

The Sparta is the right place for Ice Cream and Candies. j10tf

Frank Klosterman

Contracting House Painter
709 S. Poplar St., Seymour, Ind.
Orders may be left at Stanfield-Carlson's

Copyright 1909, by C. E. Zimmerman Co.--No. 34

The Old Cabinet Maker Says:

"That if we have babies in our homes, to make them comfortable and healthy, by providing them with the new and useful improvements in high chairs, go-carts and baby carriages.

We are splendidly stocked with beautiful goods in these lines and in order that you may have the opportunity to fill baby's needs properly they are priced at a very low margin of profit.

F. J. VOSS

THE COUNTRY STORE

Buys in Quantities and Can Sell for Less

STAPLE DRUGS.
One-eighth oz. bottle P. & W. Quinine for	8c
Malena Salve	8c
Sulphur, per pound	5c
One quart bottle of Amonia for	10c
Venetian Red, dry, per pound	2 1/2c
HARDWARE
$1.00 Roller Skates, pair	75c
Capemell Horse Nails, any size, per lb.	16c
$1.98 Suit Case for	$1.25
$1.00 Hand Saw a good general purpose tool for	65c
2 only, Laundry Coal Stoves to close out, each	$2.25
A nice size Roasting Pan for	25c
A heavy Copper Bottom Wash Boiler	98c
GROCERY SPECIALS.
Sugar, any kind, per pound	5c
New crop Red Kidney Beans, per pound	7 1/2c
Best quality Canned Tomatoes, 3 cans for	25c
Best quality Sweet Corn, 2 for	15c
Best quality Lye Hominy, per can	8c
50c pound Uncle Sam Chewing Tobacco for	39c
Pure Lard, per pound	12 1/2c
Large size Can Milk	8c
Small size Can Milk	4c
Full Cream Cheese, two pounds for	35c
60c Tea, one-half pound for	25c
Fresh Eggs, per dozen	16c
4-pound Bag Table Salt, 3 for	19c
MISCELLANEOUS.
15c White or Oak Curtain Poles, 2 for	15c
20 Per Cent. Discount on all Rubbers, except Boots
Men's 50c Work Shirts, 3 for	$1.00
Children's 15c Hose, now per pair	11c
$1.50 Corduroy Pants, per pair	$1.19
Jap Waste Baskets, any size	25c
4 Postal Cards and Postal Card Album for	5c

RAY R. KEACH

East Second Street, First Door West of Interurban Station Seymour, Ind.

HONK! HONK!

ITS COMING

FREE

BIG

Indianapolis offers unique features. Beats the whole auto world in treating the public to its gasoline carnival entertainment. There will be a decorated pageant with King and Queen at night; a commercial parade; contests at motor speechway; banquets; etc. It's all FREE.

February 27 to March 4

This auto show is as big as New York or Chicago gave. In Indianapolis practically every car made will be exhibited. There will not be the condensed crowd to worry you. Forty-one dealers, eighteen factories and twenty-seven garages will have attractive and educational exhibits.

Come to Indianapolis February 27 to March 4

See the cars at 86 auto-homes
See the parades, etc.

Get information from F. P. WILLIS, Secretary, 717 Board of Trade Building INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

SHOES

Getting Married Is No Joke

When you have to scrape the bottom of your purse every month, with a fine tooth comb to buy shoes for the little ones.

Rice & Hutchins' School Shoes are made especially tough for the purpose of helping you keep money in bank against a rainy day.

When you buy Rice & Hutchins' Shoes, you get all the advantages of a perfect organization, unlimited capital, and an immense volume of business.

ROSS

SLUMP IN PRICES

More Goods Placed on Bargain Counter

Flannelets and Outing Flannels, 10 cent goods at 7 1/2c
One lot of Dress Goods at less than cost, prices from 15c to 35c
1 lot Misses and Childrens' Suits Union Suits, 25c kind, 15c
Ladies' 25c Underwear 19c
Men's 50c Underwear 39c
1 lot Dress Gingham, former price 10c per yard, now 6 1/2c
1 lot of Corduroy pants less than cost.
1 lot Men's 50 cent Dress Shirts 39c

Just Received

A Lot of New Embroideries, Laces and White Goods. Come in and see them.

FULL LINE OF DRY GOODS.
Complete Stock in our Grocery Dept.

W. H. REYNOLDS

21 AND 23 SOUTH CHESTNUT STREET

Advertise in The REPUBLICAN. It PAYS

BOYS' SUITS

We are offering special prices on our line of Boys' high grade winter weight Suits. We can save you money if you buy now. See inducements we offer.

The HUB

Wall Paper

—AT—
T. R. CARTER'S

WHY PAY MORE

Red Rose Flour.....	60c	Star Soap, bar.....	4c
25 lbs. Granulated Sugar.....	$1.25	10-lb bucket Syrup.....	28c
Bulk Sugar, lb.....	5c	5-lb bucket Syrup.....	15c
Navy Beans, 6 lbs.....	25c	Large Can Milk.....	8c
Lima Beans, lb.....	7½c	Small Can Milk.....	4c
Red Kidney Beans, lb.....	7½c	Pure Lard.....	12½c
Marrowfat Beans, lb.....	7½c	Kettle Rendered Lard.....	15c
Evaporated Peaches.....	10c	Dry Salt Jowl Bacon.....	10c
Sun Dried Apples.....	10c	Smoked Jowl Bacon.....	12½c
Loose Raisins, 3 lbs for.....	25c	Country Bacon.....	15c
Head Rice.....	5c	Sweet, Sweet mixed, Jumbo, Sour and Dill Pickles, Pimento and Roquefort Cheese, Olives, plain and stuffed, Holland Herring, White Fish, Mackerel, Lettuce, Kale, Celery, Grape Fruit, Malaga Grapes and fine eating Apples.
Rolled Oats, 3 lbs for.....	10c
Flake Hominy, 3 lbs for.....	10c
Lump Starch, 2 lbs for.....	5c
Searchlight Matches, 3 boxes for	10c
Lenox Soap, 3 bars for.....	10c
Sunny Monday Soap, 10 bars for	35c
Rub-No-More Soap, bar.....	4c

All goods delivered.

MAYES CASH GROCERY

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS THE PEOPLE'S MARKET PLACE

WANTED—Girl at the New Lynn. d1f

FOR SALE OR TRADE—If you want to sell or trade anything, a want ad in this paper and 99 others in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio will find your party. It will only cost you $2.50 per line of 6 words, write us for list of papers. Austill Advertising Syndicate, Elwood, Indiana.

EGGS.—From Single Comb White Orpington chickens, best winter layers, good size, don't fly over fence, very tame. For sale by H. P. Miller, Seymour. f17-23m3-9d

FOR RENT.—House, eight rooms, half or all. 113 E. Sixth street. J. L. Blair, 301 W. Second street. f17d1f

LADIES.—Spring is coming. We must dance to the music of carpet cleaning. Let's get ahead of the rush. M. M. Walker, Phone 391R. f24d

LOST—Dark green dress coat. Call 431. f23d

FOUND—Folding door key. Inquire here.

FOR RENT—Room with or without board. 324 west Second street. f25d

Seymour Temperatures.

The following are the maximum and minimum temperatures as shown by the government thermometers at the Seymour volunteer weather observation station and reported by J. Robt. Blair, observer. The figures are for twenty-four hours ending at noon:

	Max.	Min.
February 23, 1911	40	14

Weather Indications.

Fair tonight and Friday. Not much colder temperature.

Mrs. Isabelle Curry, who has been here for the past week on account of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, returned to her home in Medora this morning.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. H. H. H. H.

PERSONAL.

John Leblanc, of Rockford, was in the city today.

J. W. Cobbs, of route No. 8, North Vernon, was here today.

William Miller, of Dudleytown, was here today for a short time.

O. E. Carter from south of the city, was here today on business.

J. Pfister of Aurora, was here yesterday evening on business.

Clark B. Davis transacted business at Brownstown this morning.

R. R. Short, of Redding township, was in the city this afternoon.

Harry Miller, of Dudleytown, left this morning for Clarinda, Iowa.

Sheriff F. M. Colbert, of Washington, was in the city this morning.

W. M. Foster of the Scottsburg Chronicle, was in Seymour today.

C. J. Roach, of Indianapolis, transacted business here this afternoon.

Rev. Harley Jackson transacted business at Brownstown Wednesday.

Attorney Ed Elsner went to Brownstown this morning to attend court.

R. C. Graham, of Washington, transacted business here Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Roscoe Spears is spending several days at Medora the guest of relatives.

Edward Talley, of Reddingtown, was in Seymour Wednesday afternoon on business.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas are visiting relatives at Brownstown for several days.

C. E. T. Dobbins has returned from West Baden where he has been spending the last ten days.

Rev. F. M. DeMunbrun, of Fleming, was here this morning on his way to Brownstown on business.

J. A. Cox, of Crothersville, was here this morning on his way to Brownstown to attend court.

Judges J. H. Shea, O. H. Montgomery and J. M. Lewis attended court at Brownstown this morning.

Mrs. H. S. Maltby, of Aurora, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joe Andrews on north Walnut street.

Miss Mayme Lehan has returned to her home in Washington after a visit with Miss Catharine McLaughlin.

Mrs. Anna Cole, of Indianapolis, was in the city this morning on her way to Tunnelton for a visit with relatives.

Elmer Brown, manager of the Brownstown Telephone Company, was here this morning on his way to Indianapolis.

Mrs. Henry Applewhite, who has been at Sellersburg for several days, returned to her home in Brownstown this morning.

R. Myers and family of Shadron, Nebraska, who have been visiting his mother, Mrs. Ann Myers, south east of Seymour, left for home today.

Mr. and Mrs. John James, Mrs. Tom Ross, Frank Howard, Sr. and Frank Howard, Jr., went to Brownstown this morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Parker.

A Seat in Parliament.

Lord Chesterfield in 1767 lamented the increased price of seats in the British parliament. There was a boom in trade, and prices went up. Chesterfield was ambitious for his son, and when Chatham's promise of a seat came to nothing he went marketing. And he failed to find a single bargain. "I spoke to a borough jobber," he wrote to his son, "and offered five and twenty hundred pounds for a secure seat in parliament, but he laughed at my offer and said there was no such thing as a borough to be had now, for the rich East and West Indians had secured them all at the rate of £3,000 at least, but many at £4,000 and two or three that he knew at £5,000. This, I confess, has vexed me a good deal."

The wholesome art of eating apples is all but unknown among us. Now and then some quiet soul will choose his apple with the care that another man chooses his manipulated cigar and relish it with the tang of summer heats and windy days. But we buy apples as we buy baskets of coal—we buy them in the mass, caring only that they are of certain sizes and colors. Then we dump them into some waste corner or musty cellar, open to mice and to furnace heat and to currents of air, and when the skins have toughened into leather and the fragrance has given place to odor of ashes and of decay we cut them up into dumplings and pies and so work them off.—L. H. Bailey in Collier's Weekly.

The South Sea Finger Bowl.

Civilized man did not invent the finger bowl either in form or in use. It was used in the south sea islands some hundreds of years before Europeans and Americans found out that they were necessary to their own refinement. A bowl of water is handed around to every diner in a south sea house. This south sea finger bowl is half a coconut shell, beautiful, useful, practically unbreakable, yet not of sufficient worth to prevent its being thrown away tomorrow and replaced by a fresh one from the nearest palm.—Harper's Weekly.

Butter Lamps.

In some parts of Italy rancid butter formed into balls with shells of cheese is used for lamps.

Notice!

I have moved my Shoe Store to 14 E. Second St. to same room in which A. Sciarra, the tailor, is located, also my Repair Shop is in the rear room. I have enlarged my stock and will continue to give you the benefit of low prices and high grade shoes. You will receive the same good work in all the shoe repairing as before.

Yours for continuing business relationship

P. COLABUONO, THE SHOEMAKER

Prevents Ships From Rolling.

A German has recently invented an apparatus to prevent ships from rolling.

The apparatus consists of U shaped tanks extending through the hold of the vessel from port to starboard. These admit water, which rises and falls as the ship rolls, the effect being to overcome the rhythmical movement of the vessel. The tanks have been tested on two steamers plying between German ports and Buenos Aires. These steamers in rolling showed a list of eleven degrees on either side before being equipped with the tanks. With the latter in use the list was reduced to two degrees. The passengers found that the invention added to their comfort by steadying the ships.

New Zealand's Big Tunnel.

The tunnel being constructed connecting Christchurch with Greymouth on the New Zealand government railways is to be one of the largest in the world. Compressed air drills are being used, and when finished the bore will be five and one-half miles long. Work was commenced in 1908, and five years are allowed the contractors to complete their construction. The tunnel will have a height above rails of fifteen and one-half feet. It is of horseshoe form, fourteen feet wide at the rail level. The ordinary section has a twelve inch lining, which is of concrete faced with concrete blocks. The borings are being made from both ends, and the rate of progress is about twelve feet per day.

Glycerin Increases in Price.

During the last eighteen months, says the London Engineering, the price of glycerin has risen over 50 per cent, and a few days ago the highest price on record was touched, there being a further advance of 5 per cent. This great rise in price affects many industries and is said to be due largely to the scarcity of fats and oils from which glycerin is made as a byproduct in the manufacture of soap and the increased demand for glycerin for the manufacture of high explosives, great quantities of which are required for the construction of the Panama canal and other great engineering works.

Canada's Available Water Power.

According to official estimates made by the department of the interior, the available water powers of the Dominion of Canada are capable of developing energy representing more than 25,000,000 horsepower, which if produced from coal would represent a consumption of more than 562,000,000 tons per annum, at the rate of 21.9 tons of coal to the horsepower.

A SUGGESTION WHEN your old enameled ware becomes rusty and UNSANITARY, come to our store and select a new piece in Aluminum Ware.

"WEAR-EVER" IT WILL NOT RUST.

Always bright and

SANITARY

KESSLER

HARDWARE CO.

NEW TIN SHOP

We have opened a tin shop at 121-123 South Chestnut St. in the rear of Willman's Furniture Store, where we are prepared to do all kinds of slate and metal roofing, guttering, spouting and also general repairing. We solicit your patronage.

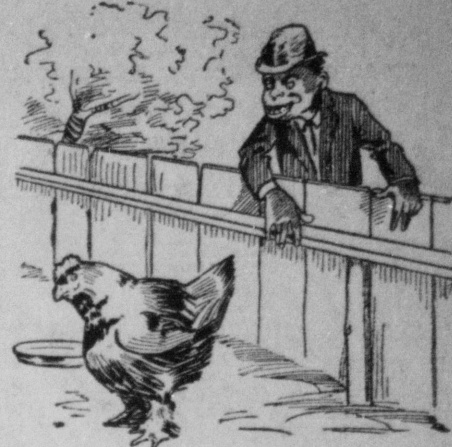

J. H. POLLERT and G. F. HOEVENER. Phone 35.

A. SCIARRA

14 East Second Street. Third Door West of Interurban Station.

The Ladies and Gents Tailoring house have the Spring and Summer Samples ready for your inspection with the prices as low as ready-made garments. Fit and workmanship guaranteed. Also cleaning, pressing, etc. PHONE 92.

Try a Want Ad. in the Republican.

IF YOU'RE ON THE FENCE

in the matter of purchasing your house coal, and undetermined where to buy, let us ask you to give us one trial and let the superiority of our coal do the rest. It is of a very high grade, uniform in its burning qualities and diffusing much heat. Perfectly clean and free from dirt.

Raymond City Coal per ton $4.00

Ebner Ice and Cold Storage Co.

Phone No. 4.

We Are Now Booking

Orders for eggs of Light Brahma Chickens, 15 eggs for $1.50. We also have two Brahma Cockerels for sale.

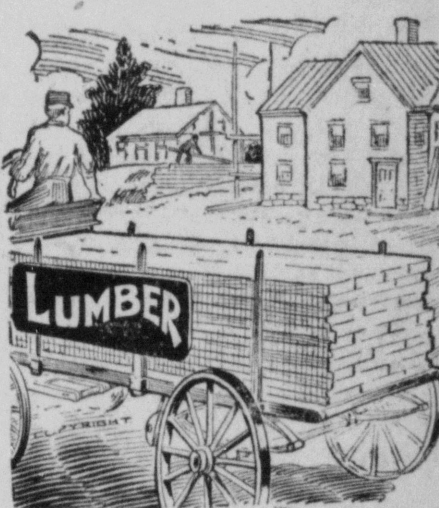

Eggs from our Fawn and White Indian Runner Ducks for sale. We also book orders now and fill orders on two or three days' notice.

Prices quoted when desired.

Platter & Co.

Seymour, Ind.

EVERY LOAD

of our lumber brings satisfaction to the man who buys it. It is good lumber. It is worth every cent it costs, and usually more. We are careful to keep up our standard of lumber quality. We keep prices down as low as possible.

SEYMOUR PLANING MILL CO. 419 S. Chestnut St.

Quaker Honesty

Every time you place a finger on any one of the Nyal remedies you have touched something good. They are reliable remedies made with scrupulous care and Quaker honesty. Nyal's Hirsutone has won a crown of fame as a hair dressing and tonic. Nyal's Cream is as indispensable as Sylvan Soap, and is used as a skin cream in more than 500 homes in Seymour. February frosts and March winds lose their terrors when this cream is used. Call and learn more about Nyal, and take a whiff of Blue Lily perfume, something exquisitely fine.

Cox Pharmacy

DR. G. W. FARVER,

Practice Limited to DISEASES OF THE EYE.

Room 2 Andrews-Schwenk Block, SEYMOUR, INDIANA.

Office Hours: 8-12 a. m. 1-5, 7-8 p. m.

GLASSES FITTED.

FOR SALE.

New six room cottage in Third Ward, at a bargain if sold soon. Business room at a rental of nine percent.

See E. C. BOLLINGER.

CONGDON & DURHAM,

Fire, Tornado, Liability, Accident and Sick Benefit INSURANCE Real Estate, Rental Agency Prompt Attention to All Business

Fire, Lightning, Tornado and Automobile Insurance

Phone 244

G. L. HANCOCK, Agt. SEYMOUR, IND.

Keep your time piece right during 1911. Our specialty is caring for watches. If they do not run correctly bring them here. J. G. LAUPUS, The Jeweler. Examiner of watches for B. & O. R. R.

Men's Spring Hats

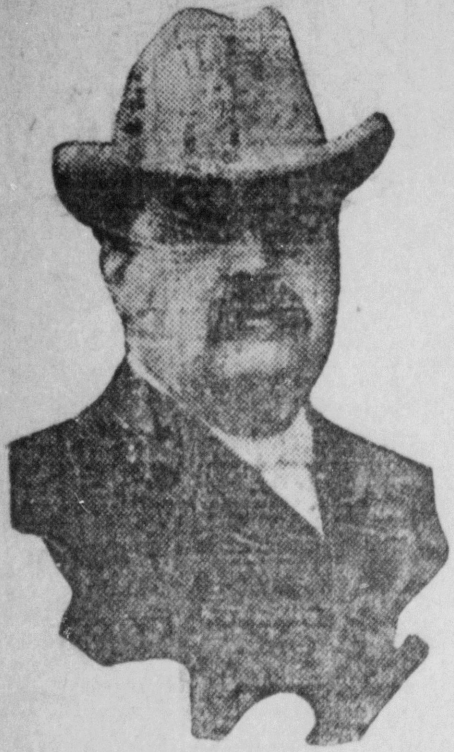

We have the new Spring Hats in many different blocks. Our plan is to have enough different styles, in varying dimensions, so as to fit any face with a hat that's becoming as well as smart. We are showing more new blocks than ever before.

We have the agency for the GOLD BOND Hat which sells for $2.00 and is equal to any $3.00 Hat on the market. Enquirer Hats, soft or stiff, $3.00. Stetson $4.00 to $6.00. Kingsbury Hats $3.00.

Thomas Clothing Co.

WILLIAM LORIMER

Illinois Senator Whose Plea Profoundly Affected Senate.

not so much the subject matter of Lorimer's speech as the sincerity with which it was delivered that impressed the senate. At times while he was speaking several senators were in tears.

The scene in the senate chamber during the speech was dramatic. Every chair on the floor was occupied and nearly all the remaining space was taken by members of the house of representatives. The galleries were crowded. Mrs. Taft, the president's wife, and her son Robert were in the senators' gallery during part of the address. The diplomatic gallery also was filled and hundreds who were unable to gain admission crowded the senate corridors.

Mr. Lorimer's speech lasted almost four hours. At its conclusion he was congratulated by several senators who are supporting him.

The senate then went into executive session to consider the Japanese treaty and held a prolonged session. Senator Beveridge gave notice that he would continue his speech in opposition to Lorimer. There will be other speeches on the subject, which may delay the vote.

SENATE ON GUARD

House's Anti-Steel Trust Movement
Not Likely to Go Far.

Washington, Feb. 23.—The naval bill as it passed the house yesterday carries all the radical anti-steel trust and eight-hour amendments injected into it Tuesday. The bill, which carries an appropriation of $133,000,000, now goes to the senate loaded with amendments which probably will be disagreed to by that body. What will be the action of the house when the bill is returned to it minus the anti-steel trust and eight-hour amendment remains to be seen. There may be a determined fight over this proposition, which is bound to complicate the legislative situation in the closing days of the session.

His Boat Capsized.

Martinsville, Ind., Feb. 23.—Ambrose Alberts of Indianapolis was drowned in White river near Waverly when his boat capsized while he was hunting ducks.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The federal grand jury at New York is investigating the Chicago packers. A large majority of Canadian farmers express themselves in favor of reciprocity.

The official census shows the population of Germany to be 64,896,881. The figures in 1905 were 60,641,278.

The house has passed the naval, forifications and diplomatic bills, involving appropriations in excess of $142,000,000.

Over 40,000 people gathered Wednesday to see the auto races at San Leandro, across the bay from San Francisco.

Senator Lafayette Young of Iowa performed the annual service of reading Washington's farewell address to the senate.

The freeze in Texas has done much damage to the fruit and early vegetable crop. The growing corn upon thousands of acres was killed.

There will be few peaches shipped from Georgia next summer if the estimates of the growers as to the damage by the present cold spell proves true.

Three of the five bandits who held up the fast mail on the Southern railway near White Sulphur Springs, Ga., last Saturday morning have been captured.

A racing track is to be promoted at Chester, W. Va., by New York and California horsemen as a result of the passage of a bill in the West Virginia legislature legalizing pool selling at racetracks.

The Russian minister of foreign affairs announces that in view of the satisfactory nature of China's reply to Russia's demands, the treaty dispute will be settled by negotiation without resort to pressure.

After a married life lasting fifty-three years, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Berry of Perry City, N. Y., died within twelve hours of each other. Mrs. Berry died of grippe and Mr. Berry succumbed to tuberculosis. Each was seventy-six years old.

THE DAY OF THE TRUMP

By M. QUAD

Copyright, 1910, by Associated Literary Press.

One evening after supper Silas Wiggs picked up his hat off the floor and walked out of the house without a word. Mrs. Wiggs did not ask where he was going. She knew. Every week day night for years and years Silas had gone down to the village to loaf and gab for two or three hours. Every night he inquired for mail at the postoffice, and every night he received a shake of the head.

On this evening, however, Silas did something he had never done before. He stopped for a moment to look at his wife and children, as if bidding them farewell.

Mr. Wiggs had come to be forty-eight years old. He had worked all his life. He hadn't broken his back at it, but he had done fairly well for a man who hated work. There were days when he was hoeing corn for some one for $1 a day that he got so mad he jumped up and down and whooped. He wanted to take life easy, but he couldn't. He wanted to have a whole sack of flour and three pounds of butter ahead of the appetite of the family and then go fishing, but the day had never come.

Neither the village postoffice nor the grocery nor the drug store saw Silas that evening nor for many long evenings to come. It was remarked that something must have happened to him. Something had. On leaving the house he had walked in the opposite direction from the village. He had walked all night and all the next day. In fact, he kept on walking until he was 100 miles away. Then he stopped and got work in a hotel barn for a few weeks. He finally found the man he was looking for, and after several interviews with him Silas put fifty more miles between him and home. Then he sat down in a hamlet in the midst of a rich farming community and got his breath. As soon as rested he announced himself as Abijah, the prophet. He had come there to warn sinners and all others that the last trump was about to sound. He set the day for it to sound. The date had been given him in a dream.

Silas' hair hung down to his shoulders, and he had a venerable appearance and a deep voice. No one around there had ever seen a prophet, but it wasn't long before everybody was agreed that Silas at least looked like one. At first he was laughed at and ridiculed, but that only made him the more earnest. He spoke from the steps of the tavern, and he went from house to house and from farm to farm. He spoke to the women more than to the men. In two weeks he had half a dozen of them with him. Then he found male converts. This was in May. The last trump was to sound on the 4th of August.

In four weeks two-thirds of the population of a county were converts. In six weeks there were only a few outsiders. The weekly papers scoffed at Silas and his dreams and predictions, but he silenced them by asking, "How do you know that this thing won't come to pass?" They didn't know it. They couldn't declare it impossible. They couldn't sneer at the last trump business without offending their Christian subscribers. It was the same with lawyers and doctors. They jumped on Silas to jump off again.

"You believe there is a heaven, don't you?" he would ask.

"Oh, yes."

"Ever been there?"

"Of course not."

"Ever see any one who had?"

"No."

"Then why do you believe?"

"Because the Bible says so."

"But it also says there shall be a judgment day."

"Yes, but why on the 4th of August?"

"Why on any day? Why not on that day as well as another?"

"If the last trump is to sound what of our property?"

"It will be destroyed with the earth, of course," was the reply.

That suited some, but not the majority.

All day on the 3d of August the county held its breath. Farmer and villager put on clean shirts and did no work. It was said that children forgot to cry and that never a rooster crowed. Hundreds of people sat up all that night, going to their doors now and then to consult the heavens.

On the morning of the 4th there was a gathering on hills and knolls and a farewell shaking of hands. People spoke in whispers, and husbands and wives held hands. It was so up to 10 o'clock, to noon, to midafternoon, to sundown. Then Silas Wiggs stood up and said to the people around him:

"It has not come and we will disperse, but to hold ourselves in readiness for a week yet. It may be that Gabriel has mistaken the date."

Did they swarm for him? Did they bring out a rail and tar and feathers? Did they go to the courts and cast him into jail? Nothing of the kind for Silas Wiggs. They allowed that there was a mistake somewhere, but it might be Gabriel's fault instead of Mr. Wiggs'. He hung around for a week and then withdrew by daylight, as an honest man should. He said he would dream again and try and have the thing come off on time.

Silas hasn't worked any since. He doesn't have to. His share of the plunder permits him to go fishing all the time, and he never comes home empty handed.

HOWARD ELLIOTT

Slated to Succeed George Gould as Head of the Missouri Pacific.CANADA MAY BE PUT TO ELECTION TRIALAnnexation Bogie Has Started Things Up There.

Ottawa, Feb. 23.—For four hours last evening the annexation bogie kept the house of commons in an uproar. The anti-reciprocity members of the opposition under the leadership of Mr. Monk brought the despised word "annexation" to the fore by means of a resolution amending the resolution now under consideration. Mr. Monk's address was as follows: "But before resuming the discussion of the terms of the agreement concluded between the government of Canada and the president of the United States, and with a view to dispelling the feeling of unrest created in Canada by comments made in both countries as to the political consequences of the agreement, the house wishes to affirm emphatically its determination to preserve intact the bonds which unite Canada to the British empire, and the full liberty of Canada to control her fiscal policy and internal autonomy."

Mr. Fielding, the minister, characterized Mr. Monk's amendment as "a sideshow motion," and said that every member of the house was entirely free to vote for or against the reciprocity agreement. In response to repeated demands from the Conservatives that the reciprocity agreement be submitted to the people, the minister of finance said he did not know how many months or years would elapse before the next general election, when the people would have an opportunity to express their judgment on the subject. The feeling is undoubtedly growing here that the government will go to the country on this subject in the not far distant future.

A FINE RECEPTION

Was Given Colonel Roosevelt at Chicago Auditorium.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Colonel Roosevelt, introduced as "our country's foremost citizen," stepped before an immense crowd in the Auditorium theater yesterday and received one of the greatest receptions of his career, after which, under the auspices of the Union League club, he spoke on "Nationalism and Democracy." The colonel put his seal of approval upon the initiative and referendum, as well as upon the principle of recall, and declared himself emphatically in favor of a change in the constitution which will permit the election of senators by popular vote.

Created Two New Courts.

Indianapolis, Feb. 23.—Governor Marshall signed the Van Horne Hammond court bill providing for two additional judges for the Lake county superior court, and appointed Lawrence Becker, mayor of Hammond, and Johannes Kopelke of Crown Point to fill the newly created judgeships.

Struck on Head With Poker.

Brazil, Ind., Feb. 23.—S. M. Wheaton, a blacksmith, is in jail and Thomas McCabe is in a critical condition as a result of a fight between the two men. It is alleged that McCabe had been drinking and attacked Wheaton, who struck him over the head with a poker, crushing his skull.

Another Bond Issue in Sight.

Washington, Feb. 23.—If the Sulloway pension bill, increasing the pension roll about $45,000,000 goes through the senate and is signed by the president, the treasury department will be obliged within a short time to issue bonds, perhaps to the amount of $100,000,000.

Aged Track Walker Killed.

Alexandria, Ind., Feb. 23.—Morgan Hunter, aged eighty, a veteran of the civil war, was instantly killed four miles west of Alexandria, by an east-bound car while walking along the Interurban tracks.

Young Huntsman Killed.

Carmel, Ill., Feb. 23.—Joseph Owens, aged twenty, son of a wealthy farmer, was accidentally killed while hunting ducks on the Wabash river.

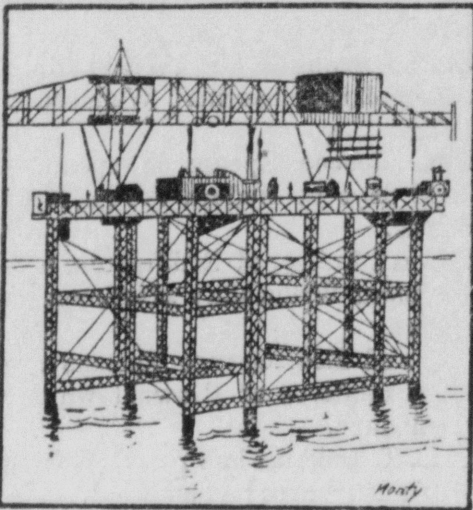

STAGING THAT WALKS.

Structure For Marine Work That Moves on Its Own Legs.

Taking slow, awkward steps, this structural steel staging walks into the water to the position where its services are required and moves around as the work progresses regardless of the roughness of the water. The first "walking" stage was used at Peterhead, a fishing port north of Aberdeen, Scotland, for the blasting of 10,000 cubic yards of granite, the North sea along this coast rarely being sufficiently calm for boring from barges.

As shown in the accompanying illustration, the staging was used instead of temporary falsework for building a pier extension in Whitby harbor. It consists essentially of two independent structural steel frames, one within the other. They are so arranged as to move independently and to act as a support, one for the other, in moving. Each frame has four legs or spuds that rise independently of each other.

The "walking" operation is simple. The legs of the inner frame are raised, in which condition, carried on rollers resting on the outer frame, the inner frame is hauled forward by tackles also attached to the outer frame. The spuds of the inner frame are then lowered again and those of the outer frame raised, which in turn is carried on rollers resting on the inner frame, this operation being repeated until the staging reaches the desired location.

WALKING MARINE STAGING.

The structure can move sidewise as well as forward or backward, but the sidewise steps are limited to only five feet, while forward or backward the step is ten feet. The spuds are each operated by an independent motor, this independence of action being made necessary by the varying depths of bottom. The overhanging gantry is carried on the outer frame, while the plant necessary for construction work is mounted mainly on the inner frame.

These stages are said to have traveled distances of 3,000 feet over sand bottom. A ten foot step can be completed in fifteen minutes if the crew is experienced.

ORIGIN OF GOLD LEAF.

Art of Beating Metal Into Thin Sheets
Very Ancient.

In an article on gold leaf in the Magazine of Commerce John Mastin says that just as the date of the discovery of gold is too remote even to be guessed at so is the origin of gold leaf lost in antiquity. On some of the most ancient mummies discovered gold leaf has been used on the skin, tongue and teeth, etc., and in some instances on the coffins also. It also appears on tombs, monuments and the like, and, strange to say, though gilding with "thin sheets of hammered gold" and "skins of gold"—otherwise gold leaf—was known to be practiced at least in the eighth century B. C., the process of bringing the gold into these fine sheets or "skins" was, at any rate in the eleventh century A. D., substantially the same as that used today, no advance whatever having been made in the intervening nine centuries.

Further, on some of the Grecian pottery of the fifth century the gold leaf used is as thin as that used today, so that in results obtained also we have not advanced in the least, but still keep practically to the same average thickness as that used on the Egyptian coffins of the third century A. D. and most of the Greek vases of the fifth.

Greatest Rainfall in Europe.

According to meteorological records, the rainiest place in Europe is Crkvice, in the mountains of Dalmatia, behind the bay of Cattaro. The mean annual rainfall for the last twenty-five years is 182.76 inches. In the wettest year recorded, 1901, 241.53 inches fell. The record for Europe was once held by Seathwaite, in Cumberland, with its 137 inches a year. The magnitude of these figures is perhaps better realized when compared with the average rainfall for the whole country, which is about forty inches, or less than quarter that of Crkvice, in Dalmatia. The heaviest rainfall in the world is that of Cherrapunjee, on the Khasia hills, 200 miles north of the bay of Bengal, where 475 inches fell in the year.

Mold Destroys Insulation.

It may be of value to inexperienced electricians to know that nothing destroys rubber insulation of wires so quickly as common mold. Moisture has little effect, and wires have been known to keep their covering intact for many weeks lying in a bed of moist iron rust, but failed in a minute or so when brought into contact with mold. A house that is painted before the walls are entirely dry is likely to abound in mold, and the only temporary preventive of immediate deterioration is carbolic acid, and even this does not serve to save the insulation unless constantly applied.

Failed in Health

"My mother died six years ago," writes Miss Ruth Ward, of Jerseyville, Ill., "and left me to care for six children. I had never been strong; and this, with the shock of her death, was too much for me.

"I failed in health. I was tired all the time and did not want to go anywhere, nor care for company. I had the headache all the time and such bearing-down pains. "A very dear friend advised me to take Cardui, as it had done her so much good, so I commenced to use it and now I am in good health."

Take CARDUI

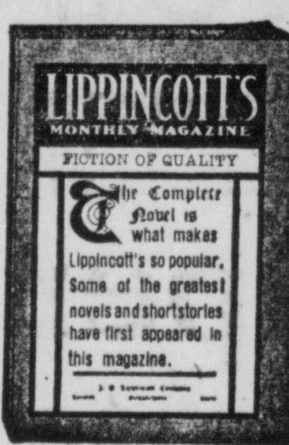

The Woman's Tonic

Women's pains are relieved or prevented and women's strength is quickly restored, by Cardui, the woman's tonic. You yourself know best if you need it, or not.

If you do need it, do not delay, but commence to use it at once. Every day of delay, only lets you slide further down the hill.

Don't wait, then, but begin to take Cardui today, for its use, no matter how prolonged, cannot harm you and will surely do you good.

Write to: Ladies' Advisory Dept., Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., for Special Instructions, and 64-page book, "Home Treatment for Women," sent free.

For Good Reading Get

LIPPINCOTT'S
MONTHLY MAGAZINE

Each Issue Complete in Itself

Its contents is of such a compelling nature as to cause the reader to buy one number and want the next. LIPPINCOTT'S now covers a wide field of discriminating readers who seek only that which is best in Fiction, Fact, and Fun.

ONE YEAR'S SUBSCRIPTION WILL BRING TO YOU

- 12 GREAT COMPLETE NOVELS—one in each issue.
- 50 TIMELY ARTICLES by competent writers.
- 75 SHORT STORIES—clever, clean-cut, and vital.
- 50 PLEASING POEMS that need no interpreter.
- 200 PAGES OF NEW AMERICAN HUMOR in "Walnuts and Wine," the most widely quoted humor section in America.
- 2000 pages yearly of exhilarating reading.

25 cents per copy

Send all orders to this paper or to

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE

SEND FOR OUR SPECIAL MAGAZINE OFFERS

$2.50 a year

Philadelphia, Pa.

DISTINCTIVE MANNISH TAILOR SUITS.

Furnished by Pictorial Review
222 West 39th St., New York City.

Among the new materials for tailored suits are some very attractive rough surfaced fabrics. These are suitable for the more severe mannish models for winter. There has been quite a vogue for the smooth finished worsteds. French serge and vicuna for Fall with broadcloth, wool-back satin and moire for the more dressy designs. Velvet has become quite prominent this season for suits and dresses and velveteen in various forms is extremely soft, soft and dressy. These are trimmed with black silk braid on colored as well as black velvet, and fur is a fashionable trimming. Of the rough cloths, camel's hair, homespun, tweeds, mannish mixtures and chevrons are to the fore, and ratine is a new rough fabric that promises to be extremely fashionable. It is all wool and has a roughened knobby surface. It is suitable for long coats as well as for suits.

The narrow skirt is still the most fashionable type but is modified to suit the individual. The gored skirt and the close-fitting circular skirt are also coming in for their share of favor. The walking skirts are made about ankle length, though some women are ordering theirs a little longer.

Coats are short, about hip length, and they have charming quaintness of style, that is, they look quaint on the French girl. Perhaps it is her slim, short-waisted figure. By the way, this short-waisted effect is a very vital factor, appearing in coats as well as in gowns. The coats are very slightly fitted and hang almost straight from the shoulders. This, with their short length, adds to the appearance of being short-waisted.

The two and three-inch patent-leather belts worn with so many coats also shorten the waist. Black is the favorite and it may accompany any colored coat, although patent-leather belts are made in all the fashionable colors and they are wonderfully soft and pliant.

The colors tend to sombre shades and black is a leader. Blue in navy, royal or purplish tone; dark seal brown, dark tobacco brown, grays blended with white and black are all fashionable. The mixture materials show a skilful blending of green and brown, blue and green, brown and black, or other combinations in subdued colors that are very smart.

Black and white English mixture is the material used in making the Norfolk jacket PICTORIAL REVIEW PATTERN No. 3639-3623. It is the newest and most up-to-date type of the Norfolk jacket, a style which is always one of the popular forms of a coat suited to rough finished materials, velveteen and corduroy. The shawl collar is faced with black velvet and the black patent-leather belt passing under the box plait is fastened with a large buckle. The seven-gored skirt is laid in side plaits that are stitched down over the hips and pressed to the lower edge. The jacket patterns are in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust measure and the medium size requires 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material. Skirt patterns are in sizes 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32 inches waist measure and the medium size requires 9 yards of 27 inch material. The costume as illustrated requires 6 1/2 yards of 54 inch material with nap.

Fine striped gray chevrot was selected for the suit combining jacket No. 3658 and skirt No. 3656. Moire silk was used for facing the collarless jacket and small buttons also add a decorative finish. The single-breasted jacket is slightly fitted and the seven-gored skirt has lapped seams. A band with lengthwise stripes finishes the sides of both jacket and skirt. Jacket patterns are in sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure and the medium size requires 3 1/2 yards, 44 inches wide. Skirt sizes are 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32 and 34 inches waist measure and the medium size requires 3 3/4 yards, 44 inches wide. The entire costume requires 5 1/2 yards, 54 inches wide.

Patterns for the above illustrations including cutting and construction guides are 15 cents each number.

Want Ads in The Republican Get Results

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

ALCOHOL 3 PER CENT.

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomach and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr. J. C. HITCHCOCK

Pumpkin Seed -
Aloe Sassa -
Rochelle Salts -
Aloe Oil - Sassafras -
St. Catharine's Salts -
Pine Sassa -
Cinnamon Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

Perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Facsimile Signature of
Dr. J. C. Hitchcock
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DROPS - 35 CENTS

Guaranteed under the Food and Drug Act.

Exact Copy of Wrapper.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Dr. J. C. Hitchcock

In Use For Over

Thirty Years

CASTORIA

PUBLIC SALE!

SATURDAY, FEB. 25, 1910

AT 1:30 P. M. SHARP.

300 ACRE FARM

TO BE SOLD AT AUCTION AT THE FARM TO THE HIGHEST BIDDER WITHOUT RESERVE OR BY BIDDING.

The 300 acre farm known as the old Shields farm, 4 1-2 miles east of Seymour, near the B. & O. S.W., 1 1-4 miles from Fleming on the county line road. This farm is splendidly located in a good country and has always been considered one of the best farms in that vicinity. It is 82 miles from Cincinnati, 60 miles from Indianapolis and 50 miles from Louisville. It is an ideal stock farm, has a never-failing spring and grows blue grass in abundance. It is a nice level farm with splendid natural drainage. 200 acres are cleared for cultivation, and 100 acres are in timber. $2500 worth of timber can be sold off the farm. It is only two miles from the experimental station which Purdue University is conducting on the Stanfield fruit farm. Come and see what Southern Indiana is doing. This farm can be sub-divided into forty acre tracts and make eight excellent small farms. The land is adapted to growing wheat, oats, corn and all the farm products of Southern Indiana. The owners live a hundred miles from here and have given me instructions to sell to the highest bidder without reserve or by bidding. The farm will positively be sold. Be sure to come, you'll be sorry if you don't. Come and get a big bargain.

TERMS OF SALE:

$2000 cash; balance in payments covering one to six years at five per cent. interest. You can make the farm pay for itself. Don't miss this sale.

TUDE HAMILTON

W.B. NUFORM CORSETS

The best popular-priced Corset made.

Every figure can be becomingly corseted in one of the many attractive W. B. Nuform models. They present the figure in graceful lines and erect poise, effecting a decided improvement.

Made of service-giving fabrics—daintily finished and perfect in fit.

Price $1.00 upwards to $5.00 per pair.

Sold at all stores, everywhere.

WEINGARTEN BROS., Makers, 34th St. and Broadway, N. Y.

Have You Any Mantle Troubles?

USE BLOCK INNERLIN LINED MANTLES

AND YOUR TROUBLES ARE OVER

Block Innerlin Lined Mantles give 50 per cent. more light and will outlast six ordinary mantles. This means a saving of 75 per cent. on your mantle expense. TWO COMPLETE GAS MANTLES IN ONE. Price, 25 cents

GET ONE TO TRY WITHOUT COST

Save the box covers from 12 Block Vy-tal-ty Mantles—the best 10 and 15-cent grade of mantles sold—take them to your dealer, or send them to us, and get a Block Innerlin Lined Mantle free. Block Vy-tal-ty and Block Innerlin Lined Mantles are for sale at Hardware, China, Plumbing, Grocery and Department Stores.

Dealers Write for Our Descriptive Circular and New Catalogue

The Block Light Co., Youngstown, Ohio
(Sole Manufacturers)

Headquarters for Incandescent Mantles, Burners and Supplies of every description. Gas, Gasoline, Kerosene, High Pressure, etc.

MILLIONAIRES MADE BY ANDREW CARNEGIE.

Andrew Carnegie recently stated that he had made some forty-three millionaires, but what is accepted in Pittsburgh as an authentic list includes forty-seven, as follows:

Henry Phipps, G. E. McCaughey, James Scott, J. C. Schwab, George Lander, Thomas Lynch, Colonel H. P. Bope, Henry M. Curry, R. T. Vandervoort, W. A. Singer, Lawrence Phipps, J. G. A. Leishman, A. R. Peacock, P. C. Knox, F. T. F. Lovejoy, Judge J. H. Reed, James Gayley, W. H. Donner, Thomas Morrison, D. A. Stewart, William E. Corey, Andrew Klonan, M. Moreland, Henry W. Oliver, D. M. Clemson, George T. Oliver, G. H. Wightman, James B. Oliver, John Walker, David B. Oliver, C. L. Taylor, Henry Merritt, A. R. Whitney, Giles B. Bosworth, W. N. Frew, Albert C. Case, John C. Dinkley, C. W. Baker, W. W. Blackburn, C. W. Baker, J. O. Hoffman, Robert Pitcairn, Millard Hunsicker.

GLASGOW'S FOG DEADLY, ACCORDING TO SCIENTISTS.

One Year's Death Roll Because of It Totals 1,063.

The queer superstition still exists that somehow smoke is good for the health. Perhaps it is the Londoner's way of consoling himself for having black instead of pink lungs. But Glasgow runs London very closely in the matter of opaque atmosphere.

Statistics show that during the autumn fogs in Glasgow in 1909 1,063 people died from fog. From being thirteen in the thousand the Glasgow death rate went up to twenty in the thousand during the fog season. When the nation lost about the same number of men during the "black week" in the Boer war it was panic stricken, but not much notice is taken of the commonplace smothering of a thousand people in the Glasgow "black weeks."

Sir William Richmond, an expert in fog facts, has recently had something to say about the way sulphuric acid bites into pictures, a fact first discovered by Faraday when he reported upon the proposed removal of the National gallery. The Elgin marbles appear to be suffering too. The bits of color have gone, and the surface has lost its old transparent look. Sir William Richmond compared the present surface to "opaque putty."

Smoke costs London $25,000,000 a year. R. Russell, another authority, says that if London were only smokeless it would be sunny enough to be a health resort for the rheumatic and aged.

WORLD'S LARGEST BAKERY.

In Essen, Prussia, and Makes Fifty Thousand Loaves a Day.

The largest bakery in the world is located in Essen, Prussia, the home of the great Krupp gun factory. It is a vast building in which seventy workmen, divided into two shifts, work night and day.

Everything is done by machinery. A screw turns unceasingly a kneading trough, into which are poured some water and ten sacks of flour of 200 pounds each.

This machine makes about 40,000 pounds of bread each day in the shape of 25,000 small loaves and 25,000 large loaves, produced by 230 sacks of flour of 200 pounds each. All the operations of breadmaking are performed in this colossal bakery. The wheat arrives there, is cleaned, ground and brought automatically to the kneading trough by a series of rising and descending pipes.

There are thirty-six double ovens, and the workmen who watch over the baking of the bread earn from 8 to 10 cents an hour, making an average of 90 cents a day for eleven hours on duty. They have coffee and bread free; also the use of a bathroom, for they are required to keep themselves spotlessly clean and must wash their hands eight times a day.

ONE DICKENS GRAVE FOUND.

Resting Place of Walter, Soldier, Discovered in Calcutta.

Discovery of the grave of Walter Landor Dickens in a Calcutta cemetery is a reminder of how the sons of the great novelist were dispersed. This soldier son died in India; another, Sydney Smith, entered the navy and at twenty was buried at sea; a third, Francis Jeffrey, joined the Canadian northwest mounted police, and two others—Alfred Tennyson and Edward Bulwer Lytton—settled in Australia. A. T. Dickens recently returned from the antipodes and has been touring England with an interesting lecture on his famous father.

E. B. L. Dickens died in Sydney at fifty-one after representing Wilcannia in the New South Wales parliament for six years. Charles and Henry Fielding remained in their native England. H. F. Dickens, K. C., is still in that country.

Pennsylvania's Highest Peak.

The highest mountain peak in Pennsylvania is located in Lincoln township, in the northwestern part of Bedford county. It is known as Blue Knob and has an elevation of 3,336 feet above main sea level. The nearest approach to it in Pennsylvania is Big Bald Knob, 3,000.7 feet above tide, a few miles southward from Blue Knob, at the Bedford and Somerset county line.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO, Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

KURTZ.

L. A. Hornaday transacted business at Seymour the last of the week. Claude Cummings went to Terre Haute to visit his sister, for a few days. Charley Denny and wife visited at Freetown Saturday night and Sunday.

William Cabard made a business trip to Brownstown one day last week.

Miss Dossa Edwards visited at Freetown a few days last week.

Alex. Aray and Polly Fish drove to Brownstown one day last week and were united in marriage.

Miss Irene Mahr, of Bedford, visited Miss Esta Armbruster Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Leona Armbruster visited at Norman Station Sunday.

A. Prather made a business trip to Bedford last week.

George Wimples is doing some carpenter work for William Rainfra last week.

William Bower who has been in poor health for several weeks is able to be up again.

Mrs. Ewers went to Christianburg last week to visit her daughter.

George Sutton of Houston was in town last week.

Robert Sutton made a business trip to Brownstown last week.

Backache, Rheumatism, Nervousness.

Mrs. E. T. Schulz, Fort Wayne, Ind., 'For three years I have suffered with my kidneys, having such pains in my back that I could not stoop over. My kidney action was too frequent and painful, leaving a sediment. A friend recommended Foley Kidney Pills which I began taking according to directions. After a short time the pains left my back, the kidney action became perfectly normal and today I am a well woman, thanks to Foley Kidney Pills.'

A. J. PELLENS.

DUDLEYTOWN.

John Vondillingen, Wm. Stettenpohl, Geo. Vondeling, Martin Surrency and Ed Vondilinger left for Page county Iowa where they intend to work this summer as farm hands.

Carl Vondeling and Martin Sierp went to Texas last week. Carl Vondeling took a homestead out there about three years ago.

Harry Miller will leave for Iowa Wednesday.

Dr. E. C. Emmonson was called to John Klosterman Monday to see his boy who is sick with a cold.

Mrs. A. G. Osterman of Seymour, visited her son, Edward of this place last Wednesday.

Mr. Charles Miller of East Grassy is having a new barn put up for his son-in-law, Edward Bobb.

Speedy Relief From Kidney Trouble.

"I had an acute attack of Bright's disease with inflammation of the kidneys and bladder," says Mrs. Cora Thorp, Jackson, Mich. "A bottle of Foley's Kidney Remedy overcame the attack, reduced the inflammation, took away the pain and made the bladder action normal."

A. J. PELLENS.

BEECH GROVE.

Rev. E. C. Poole will fill his appointment at this place next Saturday evening.

The storm Sunday night did considerable damage to the telephone lines.

Mrs. Newton Wetzel and little daughter of Scott county are visiting John Q. Foster and family.

Mrs. Lida Roddick visited relatives in Indianapolis last week.

E. E. Conway who has been sick for several days is able to be up again.

The Farmers' Institute at Marion last Thursday was well attended.

Mrs. Matilda Haynes of Terre Haute, is her on an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Finley.

Bert of James Turner and wife Friday, February 17 a son.

Pneumonia Follows a Cold.

But never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar, which checks the cough and expels the cold. M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo., says, "I contracted cold and cough and was threatened with pneumonia. One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar completely cured me."

A. J. PELLENS.

ECLIPSE.

Mrs. Carrie Branaman and Mrs. Frances Brown of Pleasant Rouge visited relatives and friends here last Wednesday. Several people from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Morris at Clearspring Thursday.

C. A. Branaman of Bedford, was a business visitor here one night last week. John Sanders had the misfortune to have a mare get her leg broken from falling into a ditch last week.

Millard Wray of Bedford, visited his father, J. Wray Saturday night. Mr. Wray has not been hardly so well this week.

John England and wife of Jeffersonville visited his sister and family here Sunday.

Remember the Name.

Foley's Honey and Tar for all coughs and colds, for croup, bronchitis, hoarseness and for racking lagrippe coughs. No opiates. Refuse substitutes. A. J. PELLENS.

A Virtue Misplaced.

"I ordered this steak not well done," said the impatient guest. "I know it," answered the intellectual waiter. "But the cook is one of those people who believe that no matter how small a thing is it should be well done."

Advertise in the Republican. It pays.

THE THINKING GERMAN

By SARAH BAXTER

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

Being a woman with no children and not content with the occupation house keeping alone gave me, I decided to go into the business of raising squabs for market. Having ample room in my back yard, I erected dovecotes there and put in a dozen pairs of pigeons. About the time I began to think of selling my surplus on counting my young birds I missed several of them. There was a leak somewhere.

Behind our place, facing on another road, was a shanty in which lived a German cobbler named Hans Schreiber. One night, hearing a noise in my back yard, I went out with a dark lantern and flashed it on Schreiber getting over the back fence. He was warned that the next time he was caught in our yard he would be prosecuted under the law. He put on a great deal of injured innocence, but continued to steal my squabs. Finally I caught him again, had him arrested and the next morning appeared against him in court.

"Jutch," he said to the court, assuming the expression of a martyr, "I leaf it to you wedder a poor man like me can afford to eat squap. How would I know I like squap if I don't know how dey taste. I got to pay 'em first, hafn't I, to know wedder I like 'em?"

"That's a very ingenious argument, Hans," said the prosecutor, taking up the case, "but it won't work. Did you never taste any kind of game—duck, quail, snipe?"

"Neffer. Do you take me for a shentleman?"

"You've eaten young chickens, haven't you?"

"Proffers! You think I can afford to eat proffers? All t' proffers go into t' houses of shentlemen like you. Pessies, ven t' proffers are two years old I don't like 'em."

"How can a broiler be two years old?" asked the prosecutor. "I should consider a chicken two years old a pretty aged bird."

"A proller not pe two years old! H'm! Yo' go to t' colt storage house. Yo' fnt 'em t'ree, four, five years' old."

"We're not trying the cold storage men," said the prosecutor. "We're trying you, Hans Schreiber, for stealing Mrs. Perkins' squabs. What did you eat for breakfast this morning?"

"Sausage."

"Anything else?"

"Bread and coffee."

"Are you sure you didn't eat squab?"

"Sure."

"Hans, did you ever hear of Herr Roentgen?"

"No."

"He discovered a process by which one may look inside the body and see what's there."

Hans looked uneasy.

"Now I'm going," continued the prosecutor, "to use one of these machines to look inside your stomach, and if I find squab there his honor will send you up for a long term. If you will confess I'll ask him to let you off with a small fine—just enough to pay for the birds you have stolen. Now, will you submit to the test or confess?"

"Vat is t' principle of t' machine?" asked Schreiber.

The lawyer was a bit staggered.

"The principle is that a peculiar light called the Roentgen ray illuminates a man's inside and shows what is there."

The prisoner thought awhile, then said:

"I like t' see how dat is done. You show me vat you bat for breakfast dis morning, and I tell you what I do."

"Come, come," said the lawyer sternly, "enough of this. Send for the machine."

He whispered to an attendant to go to an optician near by and bring a certain instrument he designated.

When it arrived the German looked at it with much interest. It consisted of two brass cylinders, with glasses at each end, mounted on an upright.

"Now, Hans," said the attorney, "before applying the test I'll give you one more chance. Will you confess?"

Hans hesitated. The instinct of investigation indigenous with his race struggled with his fear of detection. At last he said:

"If you fnt the squap in my stomach how long for I go to shail?"

The lawyer looked at the judge, who was watching this new method of trial much amused.

"Thirty days," said his honor.

"I risk it," said Hans. "Look into my stomach."

"I withdraw the charge," I said, coming to the lawyer's rescue.

"The charge is withdrawn," said the judge, struggling to repress laughter.

"Prisoner, if another such charge is made against you and you are proved guilty I'll send you up for six months."

"I wants to see," said the prisoner, "vat vent truh my stomach dis morning."

"That's not necessary now," said the prosecutor, "since the charge has been withdrawn and his honor has dismissed the case."

"Jutch," persisted Hans, "I wants to know if the machine can do the wonderful things the shentleman says it can do. I'm reaty to go to shail to find that out."

The judge winked at the prosecutor, who placed the tubes against the German's stomach and, after pretending to look into it, said to the judge:

"Since the case has been dismissed, your honor, I will say that squab is plainly visible in the man's stomach."

"Haw, haw!" laughed Hans. "Dot machine is no goot. I didn't eat squap this morning. I eat a shicken vot I took from anudder voman's henroost."

SULPHUR SPRINGS.

No Sunday School Sunday on account of bad weather.

Emma Smith, of Rockford, visited with her sister, Mrs. Mary Johnson last week.

Henry Elmer and Henry Smith did some hauling from Fox's mill last week.

Emma Kruger met with an accident at school last Wednesday by falling while at play. She is getting along all right, and able to be in school again.

Mrs. Ida Wilson of Bedford visited with Charles Johnson and family part of last week.

We neglected to say last week that Al Brown purchased a young mule at the Capes sale near Hayden.

George A. Montgomery sold two cows to Seymour butchers a few days ago.

Clyde Munson is off duty on account of sickness.

Edison Clouse has sold his white oak timber to Bob Marsh at Reddington.

Claude Swengel and family called on Al Brown last week.

Chas. Pauley has rented his farm to a gardener from Jonesville and will move to Seymour.

Nick Deppert has been putting in some time the past week with the assistance of Al Brown and Garfield Rucker.

Henry Hohnstriter has been transplanting some fruit trees lately.

The new telephone line is completed and connected with the old Walnut Grove line for the present, and stakes were set last Friday for one to connect Frank Hooteman, Ed. Miller, R. H. Short, Steve Enis and Louis Dresendorfer with the Seymour exchange.

Charles Schmidt's children are better at this writing.

Harry Reveal sold some turkeys at Seymour last Friday.

John Briner is not so well the past few days.

Mrs. Anna Deppert and daughter, Ida, visited the former's mother in Jennings county one day last week.

Frank Cross continues to improve slowly. She is able to be out of bed and walk some with crutches.

Alva, Jesse, Mabel and Lucy Haskett spent Sunday with H. C. Pierson and family.

Knowles Mann of Seymour has been riding some in our neighborhood of late as deputy sheriff.

E. C. Wetzel of the County Line was transacting business in this neighborhood one day last week.

Minerva Glasson spent Sunday with Fanny Swengel.

Claud Murray has a sick cow that is not expected to live.

Ruby Smith spent Sunday with Zettia Brown.

Bob Brown, the milk man, purchased a span of ponies last Monday of Wm. Hoadley to drive to his milk wagon.

John M. Murray visited with his brother at Grammar over Sunday.

Keeps the little ones healthy and happy; their tender, sensitive bodies require gentle healing remedies. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will make them well and strong; regulates their stomach; makes them eat and grow. Try it tonight.—Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

CORNETT GROVE.

John Adams was at Brownstown on business Friday.

W. O. Scott of Houston, was a business caller here Friday.

Cecil Elmore and Curtis Dearing are employed in Illinois.

Sebrun Wray of Norman Station visited J. P. King Friday.

Jessie Osborne of Liberty visited Allen McLean and wife Friday.

Makes the most nutritious food and the most dainty and delicious.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

The only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar

No fussing or fretting over the biscuit-making. Royal is the aid to many a cook's success.

Royal Cook Book—800 Receipts—Free. Send Name and Address.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

TRADE AGREEMENT.

Aim of the Effects of Canadian Reciprocity in Indiana.

The administration at Washington has issued a statement pointing out some of the effects the Canadian reciprocity agreement would have on Indiana industries. Following are some of the facts given:

The United States exports of farm machinery during the calendar year 1910 were $4,321,000 in value. During the last Canadian fiscal year Canada taxed her American imports of these articles nearly $800,000. On most classes of agricultural implements—plows, thrashers, cultivators, etc.—the Dominion will now reduce her duty by one-fourth, or from 20 percent to 15 percent. On harvesters, mowers and reapers her rate will be lowered by one-seventh, or from 17 1-2 per cent. to 15 per cent. and on feed cutters, fanning mills, hay tedders and certain other items it will be reduced by one-fifth, or from 25 per cent. to 20 per cent. The reduction of the Canadian duty on farm wagons from 25 percent to 22 1-2 percent, will stimulate an export already totaling $218,000.

Continuing the statement says: "The Dominion's rate on vitrified paving brick will be 17 1-2 per cent. instead of 22 1-2 per cent. The rapid growth of Canadian cities calls for large quantities of paving material and Indiana is the headquarters of the vitrified paving block industry in this country.

"Indiana's interest in the reduction of the Canadian rate on automobiles by one-seventh (from 35 percent. to 30 per cent.) requires no pointing out. Last year this country sold Canada near $5,000,000 worth of automobiles and parts. Of the $1,750,000 (approximately) in duties collected on these consignments by Canada $50,000 will be abandoned under the reciprocity agreement.

"Canada concedes free fruits and vegetables, giving up $503,000 duties on the $2,136,600 worth thereof bought from the United States. The impetus this concession will give to our trade in fruits and vegetables will greatly benefit Indiana.

"Indiana producers will also profit by the partial or entire remission of Canadian duties on canned or dried fruits or vegetables, as well as on an extensive list of manufacturers' products, including plate glass, confectionery, brass rods, cutlery, etc.

"It is proposed to admit into the United States free of duty all lumber from Canada not further manufactured than being sawed. On planed and finished lumber the rates will be less than one-half as high as at present. American consumers use $19,046,837 worth of this material from Canada, the duties on which amount to $1,329,571.

"All but $38,000 of these duties will be removed, enabling our home builders to draw upon Canada forest resources to a much larger extent and to lower cost. Shingles, of which we import $1,759,000 worth from Canada will be taxed at 30 cents instead of 50 cents a thousand and a saving of $153,000 to the American consumer. Telegraph poles railway ties, staves, etc., now ten percent are to be duty free, a saving of $100,000 to our consumers, who take $1,000,000 of these products from Canada annually. Laths will be taxed at 10 cents instead of 20 cents a thousand pieces. Our imports from Canada amount to $1,802,144 and the duties thereon to $144,364.

"The $5,000,000 of fish which we import from Canada one-tenth of our total consumption, will enter free of duty, instead of paying nearly one-half million dollars in duty, cheapening this food staple. Our duties on meats are decisively reduced and the advantage this gives to the consumer is compensated to the packer by free admission of live animals. Many range cattle from the Canadian north west will enter this country for fattening. The reductions in Canadian rates on meats, lard and similar products will enlarge the markets of the Indiana slaughter house interests. On most of these products Canada comes down from 2 cents to 1 1-4 cents a pound, a reduction of three-eighths."

Notice to Dog Owners.

The city dog license of $1 on all dogs, male or female, over six months old, for the year 1911, must be paid on or before February 28th, 1911. Prosecution of all persons owning or harboring dogs without license tag will follow after above date.

J. T. ABELL,
Chief of Police.

Want Ads. in the Republican get Results

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ebner went to Vincennes today to attend a funeral.

Thomas Bortoff, of St. Louis, formerly, of Cortland, is quite seriously ill.

Dave Kellar who clerks for Ray Keach, has moved here from Brownstown.

G. F. Brackmeyer left Wednesday evening for Mott, N. D. where he will work this summer.

John Mayberry, who has been living at Marion for several years, has returned to his former home at Ewing.

Dr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Smith have issued announcements of the silver anniversary of their wedding Thursday, March 2, 1911.

John McCaffrey, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Shiel, who has been seriously ill for several days, is some better this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hampton, of Oklahoma City, who came east for the funeral of Mrs. Alice Massena, may locate in Indianapolis.

W. H. King, E. E. Foster and O. M. Foster, of Uniontown, and Henry Smith, of Ebenezer, attended the Indiana Baptist Brotherhood Meeting at Columbus Wednesday.

G. A. Gray of Brownstown has been called to Harrington, Kan., by the serious illness of his sister, Mrs. J. W. Drake. She contracted the measles while on the return trip from a visit in Jackson county.

Rev. F. M. Huckleberry, Rev. T. C. Smith, Arthur P. Carter, J. Robert Blair, Arthur L. Newby, Edward B. Bryan, Edward A. Remy and Jay C. Smith attended the Indiana Baptist Brotherhood Meeting at Columbus Wednesday.

The remains of Mrs. Alice Massena who died at Vincennes, arrived here this morning. Funeral services were held at the residence of Arthur Graessle, on south Walnut street, Dr. Asbury conducting them. Burial was at River View.

Clerk John R. Tinder has the original copy of a land patent for forty acres of his farm in Hamilton township. It was granted to his father, John Reading Tinder, August 10, 1837 by President Martin Van Buren. —Brownstown Banner.

Henry Quade, who in the past three weeks, has been visiting his brother, William C. Quade, west of town, left this morning for his home at Blackwell, Oklahoma. He has lived in that state for ten years and likes the country.

Frank S. Jones, of the law firm of Hacker & Jones, of Columbus, has been admitted to membership to the Columbus Commercial club. Mr. Jones recently left Seymour to engage in the practice of law at Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harig, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Christie, Mrs. Harry Christie of Indianapolis, Lloyd Hickman of Heltonville, H. M. Smith, Moody and Sankey Massena and families of Medora, Mrs. Sarah Christie of Cincinnati were here today for the funeral of Mrs. Alice Massena.

William M. Whitson, cashier of the Scott county bank at Scottsburg, has been appointed a state bank examiner by Auditor O'Brien. By the passage of the Kistler "ripper" bill the Democratic officials were able to get rid of the present Republican examiners and also to increase the number of examiners.

It is reported that Trim Wilson, who was accused of finding the money belonging to William Robbins at Crothersville Monday and failed to return it, has left for parts unknown. He has not been seen since shortly after the trial, and it is stated he will not return any ways soon. For a while it was reported that another charge growing out of the same affair would be placed against him.

From present indications the electric line from Scottsburg to Madison will not be built. The road must be in operation before September 1, and it is almost impossible to construct the line by that time on account of the high hills which must be cut down. The people of Scottsburg have about given up the idea of having the line constructed. At the time the route was proposed experienced traction men stated that it would never be completed and if a road was ever built to Madison it would be by the way of North Vernon and then west to Seymour.

Woman's World

Josephine Peabody's Play, "The Piper," Actable and Readable.

JOSEPHINE PRESTON PEABODY (MRS. LIONEL MARKS).

A woman, Mrs. Josephine Preston Peabody (Mrs. Lionel Marks of Cambridge, Mass.), has achieved the honor of writing a play so aglow with living dramatic interest and poetic beauty that critics have placed it among the very few works of dramatic art of modern times that can be read as well as acted.

Every one knows that this play, "The Piper," won last year the Stratford-on-Avon prize and was presented at the Memorial theater in Shakespeare's own town. But it is not so well known a fact that the play was not written for the Stratford competition. It entered the contest in the form of a printed book three weeks before the lists closed.

"The Piper" was written for Otis Skinner, as "Chantecler" was written for Coquelin. But Mr. Skinner being unable to produce it within the time specified by contract, the play was published in November, 1909, and during the author's absence at Stratford the rights for presentation in America passed into the hands of the New theater, New York city, where it was recently performed.

It was received with warm and long applause. No play heretofore produced at this theater has been so cordially rewarded with the plaudits of a great audience. There was the extraordinary spectacle—extraordinary for New York—of the entire audience waiting after the end of the play and unanimously calling for the author. How well deserved this tribute was any one who has read the play will understand easily. "The Piper" belongs to that class of plays for which in his Columbia university lecture the other day Henry Arthur Jones expressed an eloquent hope. It makes at once a popular appeal and an appeal to cultivated minds. It is a charming and durable contribution by an American to the all too scant collection of actable and readable plays.

Unique, but Not Pretty.
"The headache band," as one witty member of the masculine sex dubs the wide ribbons women are swathing about their heads this season, has been superseded by the newer Mme. de

THE MME. DE STAEL COIFFURE.

Steel coiffure, as depicted. This ornamentation is not pretty, but it follows after the revived styles of the first and second empires, which are having such a vogue nowadays.

Woman as Bank Cashier.
Miss Ethel Boynton is cashier of the National Bank of Bayside, N. Y., the only woman in the state holding such a position. She says that to be trustworthy a man or woman must first be kind, then he cannot find it in his heart to betray the trust that is reposed in him.

CAUSES 95 PER CENT. OF DISEASES.

Advice Concerning Stomach Troubles And How to Remedy Them.

Do not neglect indigestion which leads to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent doctor once said that ninety-five percent of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

A physician who made a specialty of stomach troubles, particularly dyspepsia, after years of study perfected the formula from which Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be the greatest remedy known for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is almost immediate. Their use with persistence and regularity for a short time brings about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will insure healthy appetite, aid digestion, and promote nutrition. As evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them, without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain them only at our store,—The Rexall Store. The Andrews-Schwenk Drug Co.

Crass ignorance.
An unsophisticated resident of a small town up the state had never been in court before and was not familiar with the interrogative manner in which a lawyer juggles a witness. When he returned home in the evening a friend asked him how he had made out.

"Oh, I made out all right," he replied, "but I never saw such a bum lot of lawyers in my life."

"What was the matter with them?" queried the friend.

"A whole lot was the matter with them," answered the witness. "Judging from the million questions they asked me there ain't a darned one of them that knows anything about the case."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Tilden Smith, of Vallonia, transacted business here today.

Feb. 1911.

Dear friend:

I went this morning to the grocery. I had a basket on my arm. I got the basket full of things and brought them home. Mama said I was a good trader. Here's a list of what I got.

1 can of Mackerel.....20c
1 can of Sliced Peaches.....20c
1 can of Sliced Pine Apple.....25c
1 can of Tomato Soup.....10c
1 can of Kraut.....10c

Your Friend,
JACOB.

I got good things because I went to

BRAND'S

George F. Kamman

Licensed Optician
EYES TESTED FREE

With T. M. JACKSON, 104 West Second Street

Building Material

The Very Best at the Lowest Prices

Lumber, Shingles, Lath, Sash, Doors and Blinds.

High Grade Mill Work

Veeneered Doors and Interior Finish.

Travis Carter Co.

Phone Us

Your orders for Spring delivery for California privet

Seymour Greenhouses
Phone 58

Seymour Drug Store

Announces A Full Line of Drugs, Patent Medicines, Toilet Articles and Perfumes ALL NEW AND FRESH

W. B. Hopkins, Prop.

Registered Pharmacist by Examination
NO. 10 ST. LOUIS AVE.

DRUGS AND MEDICINES

Prescriptions A Specialty

GEORGE F. MEYER'S DRUG STORE

BAGGAGE TRANSFER.

Call 'Phone 468 for transfer of baggage or light hauling in all parts of the city. Residence' phone 612-R.
SAMUEL S. WIBLE.
Successor to A. T. Foster.

WATCH REPAIRING

If your watch is not giving correct time, call and have it repaired. Charges are reasonable. Jewelry the best grade at lowest prices. Cut prices on 18k Roger Silverware at
T. R. HALEY'S Jewelry Store
10 East Second St., Seymour, Indiana

Call the Cab

When you want to go to the depot or about town. Prompt Service.
Henry F. Cordes
Phone 651. 107 E. Second St.

KINDIG BROS. ARCHITECTS

AND GENERAL CONTRACTORS
Home Office 411 W. 5th St.
Phone No. 672. SEYMOUR, IND.

ELMER E. DUNLAP, ARCHITECT

824-828 State Life Bldg. INDIANAPOLIS. Branch Office: Columbus

"Will Go on Your Bond" INSURANCE

Clark B. Davis
LOANS NOTARY

LEWIS & SWAILS LAWYERS

SEYMOUR, INDIANA

ANNA E. CARTER NOTARY PUBLIC

Pension Vouchers Filled Out.
Office at the Daily REPUBLICAN office, 108 West Second Street.

Wanted!

HORSES and MULES

I WILL BE AT

Hopewell's Livery Barn, Seymour,
Saturday, Feb. 25

For the purpose of buying horses and mules from 4 to 10 years of age. Must be fat. Will pay the highest market price.

BEN VEACH, CINCINNATI, OHIO